Referendum Soon On Conscription?

OTTAWA (CP)—The Ottawa Citizen in a front page story by its parliamentary correspondent said today "a national referendum on the question of compulsory selective service in the war loomed up today as a distinct possibility before many months have passed."

At Full Strength

AUCKLAND N.Z. (AP)—Advices received from Cairo report the New Zealand division has now been brought up to strength with reserves experienced in desert warfare to replace losses suffered in the unsuccessful defence of Greece and Crete.

Kobe Closed

SHANGHAI (AP)—The Japanese port of Kobe has been closed to foreigners for a 10-day period, starting tomorrow, it was reported here today amid an apparently Japanese-sponsored propaganda campaign to create the impression that a Japanese attack against Russian Siberia is imminent.

Claim Line Broken

BERLIN (CP)—DNE, the German news and propaganda agency, claimed this evening that Nazi troops had broken through the Stalin line at Opachk yesterday, overcoming "strongly-built field positions and breastworks."

Mayhew Sponsors Essay Contest

MONTREAL (CP)—Dr. F. Cyril James, chairman of the committee on reconstruction, announced today that R. W. Mayhew, M.P. for Victoria, has provided awards for a university essay contest on postwar reconstruction.

Students in 28 Canadian universities will take part in the contest, to be held this autumn, said Dr. James, principal of McGill University here. There will be two $200 first prizes, one each for English and French essays, in addition to others.

Australia Advised Of Pact With Russia

MELBOURNE (CP)—Prime Minister R. G. Menzies today said Australia had been consulted beforehand on the Russian-British joint action agreement and that Australia was in accord with the step.

"As to what special action, if any, Australia can take about Russia, that is an entirely different question," he said, "because our forces are fully occupied on their own fronts."

Public Urged To Be Careful

2 Island Fires Out of Control

Sultry skies from smoke clouds today told the story of increasing forest fire hazard from the recent hot spell and the provincial forest service appealed to the public to exercise the utmost precaution in the woods.

"The hazard is climbing steadily," said George P. Melrose, assistant chief forester, today. "If the present weather continues, it will steadily get worse. The forests are very dry." In Vancouver, District Forester C. J. Haddon issued a warning to campers and berry pickers.

Motorists can help by being careful with their cigarette butts while driving along the highway in wooded sections, forestry officials pointed out.

Yesterday at Langford an acre of ground was burned when a carelessly tossed cigarette set grass afire at the roadside.

Two major fire outbreaks on Vancouver Island were at Palmer Bay and at Great Central Lake.

A smaller fire is burning on a 25-acre tract east of Ioco, B.C., about 15 miles northeast of Vancouver. A 40-man crew has brought this smaller blaze under control.

Two hundred and fifty men are fighting the blaze which broke out last night on five acres of logged-off land near Great Central Lake. The fire was still out of control today, fanned by a brisk wind.

The fire at Palmer Bay, on the east coast of the island, north of Rock Bay, is also out of control. A crew of about 250 men has been called out to fight the blaze which is sweeping over 400 acres of logged-off land.

NANAIMO (CP)—A party led by W. A. D. Wilson, Nanaimo, fought for two hours yesterday before bringing under control a fire which broke out on a hillside above the railway tracks at Cameron Lake, 40 miles from here. The blaze was finally controlled at midnight after forestry service men from Port Alberni had been rushed to the scene.

Mr. Wilson's daughter, Lorna, 17, suffered a broken wrist and chest injuries when she fell from a bluff while on the way to help the men in the party. In hospital here today her condition was reported good.

'Only a Beginning'

'Germans Must Suffer Torments'—Churchill

LONDON (CP)—London's civil defence workers, who have waged a 10-months' fight against bombs and fire, shattered the summer quiet of Hyde Park today with tremendous cheers when Prime Minister Churchill, at a full dress review, promised the present Royal Air Force bombing of Germany was "only a beginning."

He said: "We are now bombing the enemy at a heavier rate than he has, in any monthly period, bombed us. We shall continue the process upon a growing scale until we have beaten down this horrible tyranny."

The Prime Minister delivered virtually the same fighting message twice—first to the defence workers and later to a luncheon of the capital's organized civil defenders.

"It is time the Germans should be made to suffer in their own homeland and cities something of the torments they have twice in our lifetime let loose upon their neighbors and upon the world," he said.

Men and women in the multi-colored uniforms and tin hats of several score services massed 6,000 strong in the natural, trencircled amphitheatre facing the Serpentine. Every service was represented in the review, from firemen in rubberized trousers and heavy boots to white-hatted chefs from communal feeding centres.

Mr. Churchill, with a service respirator slung across his shoulder, was accompanied by Mrs. Churchill and Herbert Morrison, Minister of Home Security. He inspected a guard of honor of smart-looking home guards and then stood on the bottom step of the reviewing stand, doffing his hat to the civilian heroes and heroines of the battle of bombs as they marched by.

Police on grey horses led the march past, followed by firemen, firewomen, air raid precautions wardens, rescue squads, ambulance drivers, nurses, street fire parties, the Red Cross, the women's voluntary services, the Young Men's Christian Association, the road repair and public utility services. Hundreds of strange-looking vehicles used by the various services also were in the procession.

No Break in Line, Russians Say; Nazis Claim They Approach Kiev

Canadian and Associated Press
Virtually no change has taken place at the front in the last several hours, the Russian information bureau declared today of the fighting which flared anew with the start of the fourth week of the German-Russian war.

No major fighting took place along the front last night, today's communique said, but Soviet aviation struck at Iasi, in Bessarabia, the Rumanian oil fields at Ploesti, and the Rumanian city of Roman, and throughout yesterday, at German airfields and armored columns.

Ninety-four German and 12 Soviet planes were declared destroyed in the furious battle of the air.

Enemy Reports Raid on Kiev

DNE, German news and propaganda agency, today reported a heavy air attack on Kiev, capital of the Russian Ukraine, claiming the advance of German, Hungarian and Rumanian forces menaced that key city on the southern flank of the eastern front.

Kiev under air harassment and threat of direct ground attack, Leningrad squeezed from two sides in the north, and German tanks jabbing toward Moscow in the centre—such were the broad outlines of the war against Russia presented by Nazi sources.

A rain of bombs fell destructively on warehouses and hangars in Kiev, DNE said.

Hitler's headquarters claimed that "break-through operations" against the Stalin Line continued on schedule and that Finnish forces had opened a two-point attack on Leningrad's northern flank, but otherwise gave no details of the battle on the vast line from the Baltic to the Black Sea.

As heard at New York this afternoon, the German-controlled Holland radio asserted the fall of Kiev "is to be expected at any moment."

Leningrad Drive Watched by British

Authoritative sources in London regarded the German drive toward Leningrad as the "most dangerous" of the renewed Nazi attacks. German claims of great gains are regarded extravagant by these sources, but they said there apparently has been "a certain amount of progress" by the German armies.

Russian Troops Hold Stubbornly

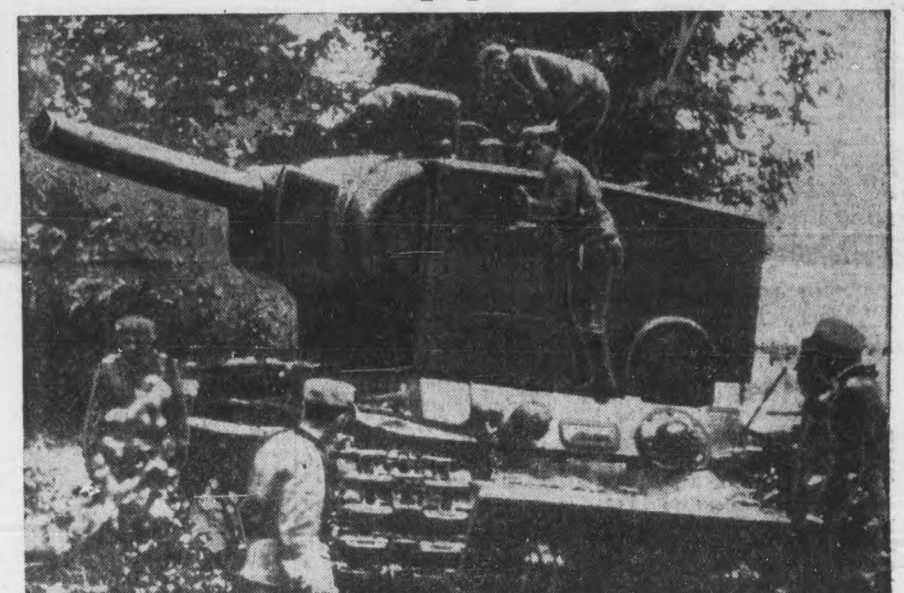

While acclaiming the new "fraternity of arms" with Britain, the Soviet yesterday reported that the ominous lull which had settled down over the battlefields for two days had been shattered by tremendous new Nazi assaults along the roads reaching toward Leningrad, Moscow and Kiev.

Soviet troops met the attacks head-on, the Russians said, and stubbornly held on to ground, in some cases checking and even driving back the Nazis.

It appeared the Germans were using their full force by day and mostly resting at night now that

SOVIET SUCCORS NAZI WOUNDS—A Soviet surgeon dresses the wounds of a captured Nazi airman while a nurse stands by, says caption on this radiophoto from Moscow. (Radiophoto, Copr. RCA Test Transmission.)

RED GIANT—Like Lilliputians clambering over the fallen Gulliver, curious German soldiers scramble up on this huge Russian tank, a 52-tonner. Note size of cannon, which judging from its angle to the caterpillar treads, is housed in a turret, as on a battleship. (Radiophoto.)

the period of the "white nights" are ending and nights of real darkness are setting in.

During the first offensive, when light never really left the sky, the Germans fought on a 24-hour schedule. This carried them through the western border provinces—the Baltic states and the Polish buffer zone.

In the new offensive which began Saturday, Pskov, Vitebsk and Novogrod Volynski remained as the centres of the main operations—threats, respectively, to Leningrad, Moscow and Kiev.

Enemy Forced To Change Tactics

The Germans were reported forced to adopt new tactics in deployment of armored columns. During the first offensive the Germans sent tanks dashing unprotected through the Russian lines, achieving tremendous speed but suffering heavy losses.

Now, says a Soviet press account, the Germans are sending batteries of anti-aircraft guns and squadrons of Messerschmitt fighter planes along with their tanks, sacrificing speed, the better to combat Russian bombers.

The Russian air force still is harassing the tanks, it was said, and fighters engaged the Messerschmitts.

The Nazi push to the fortified Dnieper on the central front was acknowledged in the announcement that the Russians had recaptured Zlobin, on the western bank of the river 35 miles south-east of Bobruisk and Rogachov, a few miles farther north and on the east bank of the river.

Today's communique from the German high command said:

"Finnish armed forces under the supreme command of Field Marshal Mannerheim started an attack on both sides of Lake Ladoga."

Two Russian patrol boats were claimed by the high command to have been sunk by German destroyers.

(The communique did not say where the patrol boats were sunk, but the likeliest spot would be the Gulf of Finland, Baltic Sea approach to Leningrad.)

(Leningrad, a centre of Russian industries, lies at the head of the gulf, west of the lower end of Lake Ladoga and about 75 miles from the nearest Finnish border.)

(The frontal drive on Leningrad, with the latest official location of German forces given as east of Lake Peipus, had approached to within 150 miles of the city, according to the Germans, while according to Finnish dispatches, one arm of the northern offensive was at Narva, Estonia, 80 miles from Leningrad.)

Russians Welcome Pact With Britain

Russia's formal mutual assistance pact with Britain, signed in the Soviet capital Saturday, was welcomed today by Russians, who believed it to be the final link enclosing Germany within two fronts and assuring eventual Allied victory. The official press reported that crowds throughout the country cheered yesterday's radio announcement of the pact.

Pravda, newspaper of the Communist Party, devoted its front page to photographs of the signing ceremony, the agreement itself and an editorial pointing out the strategic value of the instrument.

S. A. Lozovsky, vice-foreign commissar, termed the pact a "fraternity of arms" which would bring Hitlerism to its knees.

German spokesmen commenting today on the pact, described it as the pact of two parties bent on suicide.

"Both would be suicides have fettered themselves one to the other so that one won't jump out of the moving train without the other," the spokesman said. They professed to hope that Britain would get supplies to the Russian front as quickly as possible because "the speedier, the quicker we lay our hands upon them."

Asked whether Germany would make peace with the Stalin regime if it asked for terms (contrary to the pact), these spokesmen said Germany had a "mandate from all Europe to liquidate Bolshevism" and that therefore there could be no question of compromise with its exponents.

The commentary Dienst Aus Deutschland boasted the "death knell of Bolshevism already has sounded."

Press and radio assured the German public that "there is no salvation for the Soviet armies... the decision in the east already has been attained."

Air Raid Deaths Decrease in Britain

LONDON (CP)—The Ministry of Home Security announced today that only 399 persons were killed in air raids on Britain in June, the lowest of any month since July, 1940.

Seven men are missing and believed killed, the ministry added, and 461 persons injured in raids are detained in hospitals.

The July, 1940, totals were 258 killed and 321 hospital cases. Britain's heaviest home front casualties of the war were in September, 1940, when 6,954 were killed and 10,615 treated in hospitals.

Among the 399 known deaths in June were 175 men, 160 women and 64 children.

R.A.F. Hits 2 Ships At Cherbourg, Havre

LONDON (AP) — The Royal Air Force scored bomb hits on two 6,000-ton ships and shot down seven German fighters in two morning raids on the Nazi-held ports of Cherbourg and Le Havre, France, today, an authoritative announcement said.

The big bombers were escorted by fighting planes as they swept across the Channel for the attacks on France after night raids, which extended from the coast to industrial northwestern Germany.

Nazi daylight raiders also struck across the Channel. Three soldiers were reported wounded when a German plane machine-gunned a train in southern England early this morning.

In the night raids, docks at Amsterdam and Ostend were reported raided and targets as distant as Bremen and Vegesack hit. The R.A.F. lost two bombers and four fighters in the engagement at Cherbourg. One of the 6,000-ton ships was set on fire, and bombs also hit a railroad station south of the docks, as well as locomotive sheds and a factory.

The other 6,000-ton ship was hit at Le Havre and afterward was seen to be half submerged, the announcement said.

Railway Yards Raked By Bombers

Later in the morning another formation of Blenheim bombers attacked the railroad yards at Hazebroek.

In the night assaults hundreds of bombs rained on the much-hammered western Reich as well as docks at Amsterdam in the Netherlands and Ostend, Belgium.

Principal targets in Germany were the shipbuilding centre of Bremen, also attacked Saturday night, and Vegesack. Night sweeps also were made over northern France, where enemy airdromes were bombed and machine-gunned. At Amsterdam Nazi oil storage tanks were smashed and large fires started.

From all night operations one plane was lost. As the R.A.F. maintained the tempo of its non-stop offensive, light units of the Nazi air force last night attacked scattered points in England. Two of the raiders were destroyed.

With Bremen the focal point of a fierce attack on northwest Germany Saturday night, the British offensive reached a point in tonnage of bombs dropped surpassing the heaviest attacks on the British Isles.

Bomber command aircraft roared through heavy thunderstorms to drop high explosive and incendiary bombs. Large fires were started in industrial areas and the shipyards at Bremen.

Two aircraft were lost during the operations.

(Nazi sources in Berlin admitted British raids on Bremen, Hamburg and several other German communities but, as usual, claimed only slight damage was done.)

(An anti-Nazi "freedom station" in Germany was heard by the NBC in New York to say that night bombings by the R.A.F. had halted completely all passenger rail and road traffic in the rich Ruhr and Rhineland regions, heart of the Nazi war supplies industry.)

New Defences On Nazi Coast

A report yesterday from the southeast coast said lifting of a heat haze which had blanketed the Channel for weeks disclosed new German defence works at several points between Boulogne and Calais, consisting of trench works, clusters of new buildings and barbed wire.

Urges Portugal Hold Azores

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sumner Welles, acting Secretary of State, said today the United States is anxious Portugal retain sovereignty over the Azores and Cape Verde Islands.

He called attention at a press conference, however, to a statement in President Roosevelt's message to Congress on the occupation of Iceland that it was vital to American security that strategic Atlantic outposts "remain in friendly hands."

Mr. Welles was commenting on a statement by the Portuguese minister, J. Dibrilchi, who said in New York Saturday that Portugal had received assurances the United States would not occupy the Atlantic islands.

Public's Support Wanted

May Cut Gas Consumption in Half

An appeal to the motoring public to cut down on the consumption of gasoline is forecast in Ottawa dispatches.

The proposal is to have people curtail the use of gasoline as a patriotic effort, rather than to do it by drastic rationing regulations.

A shortage of tankers, transportation difficulties, and large consumption of gas by the armed services is cited as a reason why the use of gasoline must be reduced. One report says the public may be asked to reduce gasoline consumption by a half.

In British Columbia the appeal will come when people are using gasoline at a record rate. Latest statistics of the Coal and Petroleum Control Board show gasoline sales in April were 5,955,340 gallons, an increase of 813,118 gallons over April of last year.

Included in the total are 4,159,252 gallons sold through retail stations, the bulk of which goes to private passenger cars and small truck owners. To commercial accounts the sales were 1,796,086 gallons, which goes largely for big trucking outfits, bus lines and similar operations. Other sales were 451,647 gallons for marine purposes and 85,335 gallons for aviation.

The increased consumption is mainly due to the larger number of vehicles in use. In April there were 108,404 cars and trucks of all types licensed in the province, against 98,359 last year. The average consumption per vehicle works out at 50 gallons a month. This includes all types of big truck and bus users, however, so that private car consumption is somewhat smaller.

GOERING RUMORED HELD BY GESTAPO

LONDON — Europe today was discussing a broadcast which came from the Moscow radio yesterday asserting Marshal Herman Goering, successor-designate to Hitler, had fallen into disgrace for opposing the Russian campaign and might now be held in a concentration camp.

The story, broadcast in the Netherlands language and credited to "well-informed Stockholm circles," as reported by Reuters and the Exchange Telegraph, said:

"Goering argued that after German air losses in the west and in the Balkan campaign and Crete the air force was unfit for a new campaign. Goering refused to take responsibility for this new drive.

"Hitler became frenzied, called Goering a coward and declared he himself would take over command of the German air force.

"Disappearance of Goering's name from the German press tends to prove the veracity of this report.

"It is rumored that Himmler (Heinrich Himmler, chief of the German Gestapo) insisted on Goering being put in a concentration camp."

(On June 21, the day before Germany attacked Russia, a Canadian Press dispatch from London credited foreign circles with saying Goering headed a military clique which favored conquest of Russia, holding the view it would be almost as easy as the subjugation of Poland.)

(An Associated Press dispatch on June 14 quoted diplomatic sources in Turkey as saying Goering believed Germany needed the Ukraine for a long war against Britain.)

'No United States Surrender to Hitlerism'—Knox

WASHINGTON (AP) — Navy Secretary Frank Knox, at 67, rounding out a year as civilian head of the United States navy, expressed hope today that the policy of aid to Britain would not lead to war.

As the cabinet's most outspoken champion of all-out assistance to Britain, Knox said in an anniversary interview that "I have been realistic enough to pursue that policy wherever the pursuit of such a policy might lead."

NO SURRENDER

"I hope it will not lead us into war," he continued. "But in my eyes a war of defence against Nazism would be infinitely preferable to a peace accomplished by a surrender to Hitlerism and all that would mean to the freedom and independence of the American people."

STATEMENT YEAR AGO

A year ago, the Senate, after sharp debate, confirmed the nominations of Knox to be Navy Secretary, and Henry L. Stimson to be Secretary of War. Knox told the Senate naval committee at the time that he "refused to believe that we shall actively participate in the war to the extent of sending any army overseas."

Knox said he felt "a great sense of gratification over the progress made in upbuilding the navy in the past year" and ascribed an overwhelming proportion of the results to his professional co-workers in the navy.

Wage Ruling Aim To Curb Inflation

OTTAWA—G. H. Lash, director of public information, has issued the following explanation of the purpose and meaning of the much-discussed Order-in-Council P.C. 7440:

"Canada's wartime wages policy as an integral part of the economic control in the national war effort has been somewhat misinterpreted.

"The order prescribes for industries covered by the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act and recommends for all other industries a wartime wages policy. It contains two main provisions: (a) Except in certain special circumstances, the highest wage rates established between 1926 and December 16, 1940, are to be regarded as fair and reasonable; they may be restored if necessary and maintained but not increased; (b) such wage rates may be supplemented by a separate cost of living bonus, usually of 12.5 per cent in the cost of living, in order to safeguard the workers from increases in the cost of basic necessities of life.

"Facts behind and reasons underlying P.C. 7440 are: "1. Average money wage rates are higher today than they have ever been in Canadian history with the single exception of the year 1920. In that year wages were about 2 per cent higher and the cost of living was 50 per cent higher than today.

"2. Wage rates are about 4 per cent higher today than in 1929, although the cost of living is 11 per cent lower.

"3. Employment is also at its all-time peak, 14 per cent above 1929.

"4. Higher wage rates and more employment with substantial overtime pay mean that the money earnings of wage-earners are also at the highest level ever reached. Payrolls in March of this year were about 54 per cent above those of 1939.

"5. The cost of living, still much below the level of 1929, very much below the level of 1920, has increased less than 9 per cent since the beginning of the war.

"6. Real wages and real earnings—the things you can buy with the money in the pay envelope—are therefore even more noticeably at an all-time high.

"There are individual exceptions, of course, but on the average the wage-earners of Canada,

5 Italian Ships Sunk

LONDON (CP) — The Admiralty announced tonight the sinking of at least three Italian vessels, including one carrying troops and supplies, in the Mediterranean.

All were credited to submarines of Britain's Mediterranean fleet. The 5,232-ton Italian tanker Strombo, which previously had been damaged by a torpedo, was sent to the bottom while on her way to Italy for repairs, the Admiralty said.

It reported also the sinking of a 5,500-ton supply ship, heavily laden, which was in a convoy escorted by an armed merchant cruiser and a destroyer; a large sailing vessel loaded with troops and military stores, in the Aegean Sea, and the probable sinking of two other vessels in a Libyan port.

"Another submarine, finding no enemy shipping on the high seas, attacked by gunfire the enemy anchorage of Ras Tayones, near Bengazi," the communique related.

"In this attack a supply ship of about 1,000 tons and an armed trawler were certainly damaged and probably sunk."

SUNK BY BOMBERS

At Cairo the Royal Air Force Middle East command announced in a communique today:

"Bomber aircraft of the R.A.F. carried out successful attacks on an enemy convoy outside Tripoli yesterday.

despite the heavy burden of taxation and the savings, are better off than they have ever been before.

"While the common people of Britain tighten their belts on slimmer and slimmer rations, retail sales in Canada in April, 1941, were about 23 per cent higher than during the first months of the war.

"P.C. 7440 does three things. It sets a ceiling on wage rates, but at the highest level ever reached in this country. It also sets a floor below which wages may not fall. It provides for cost of living bonuses to protect the workers' basis standard of living from being undermined by increases in the cost of living.

"If the policy of P.C. 7440 is generally accepted it will help to stop or limit inflation. This is the main purpose. Workers whose memories go back to 1914-20 do not need to be reminded that, once inflation starts, wages never catch up with the cost of living. On the other hand, if inflation cannot be prevented, P.C. 7440 gives labor a shield against the worst consequences of rising prices.

"If there is no ceiling on wages, inflation is almost inevitable and the wage-earner will be the first and the most serious sufferer. Inflation is inevitable if wages continue to rise, because it is not physically possible to devote nearly half of our national income to war purposes and at the same time to have a general increase in real wages. There need be no limit, it is true, to increases in money wages, but there are or will soon be almost fixed limits to the things money will buy. It is not believed that the workers of Canada want to be 'kidded' by more and more dollars in their pay envelopes if those dollars will buy less and less.

"All are agreed that none shall profit from the war. This policy is expressed in the government's efforts to control prices and profits, to control prices and rents. It must be rounded out by control of wages, for they constitute two-thirds of the national income. If dollar wages continue to increase faster than the flow of civilian goods and services can be increased, prices must rise, the cost of living must increase, and real wages, the purchasing power of money wages, must fall. It is this that P.C. 7440 is designed to avoid, or at least to restrain."

5 Italian Ships Sunk

"One three-masted schooner, apparently carrying oil or munitions, blew up when hit by a bomb and another 100-ton vessel was hit and seen burning steadily. Several large bombs also were dropped on ships inside the harbor."

The Egyptian government today disclosed Axis planes carried out a raid on the Suez Canal zone last night, but it said only a few bombs were dropped and damage was slight. One person was killed.

LONDON (AP)—Soviet War News, a publication of the Russian embassy here, said today Stalin's "scorched earth" policy is being carried out wherever Soviet forces withdraw, with nothing left behind to aid the Germans.

In one village such grain as could be carried away by railroad was removed from a granary, and the rest was burned, the publication said. It added that milkmaids drove cows over fields of wheat and rye, and women with scythes cut down sheaves, while tractors and horse-drawn rollers destroyed standing crops.

Pigs were slaughtered, farm buildings and equipment demolished and wells filled in before the village and farm folk quit their land to fight on as guerrillas from the woods, the publication said.

Peace in Syria Strengthens Britain

LONDON (AP) — Britain saw herself in a vastly strengthened position in the Middle East today following the signing of an armistice with General Henri Dentz, French High Commissioner in Syria and Lebanon.

By the undisclosed terms of the armistice, signed Saturday night at Acre, Palestine, scene of Napoleonic conflict between Britain and France, British sources said they expected to gain a bulwark for protection of the Suez Canal and perhaps greater co-operation from the wavering Turks.

Now in occupation of territory adjacent to Turkey, Britain is in position to send military aid in even her nonbelligerent ally becomes involved in the war.

Some of the Imperial and Free French troops engaged for the past five weeks in the bitter Syrian conflict, it was pointed out, will be released for duty elsewhere, and the island of Cyprus, which was in an exposed position after the fall of Crete, may now be bolstered by aviation bases on the mainland.

Increased Free French activity against other Vichy-held colonies was forecast in some quarters.

(In Vichy, French sources declared General Dentz had only tentatively initiated the Acre armistice and said his powers extended only to military matters—not political or governmental affairs. These sources said the British occupation might resemble the situation in the German-occupied area of France—with the British taking over military authority but leaving civil administration in French hands.)

The idea of passengers and mail landing by parachute from a steam flying machine was pictured by an imaginative artist of about 1830.

WIEDEMANN STILL STRANDED

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Japanese liner with a polite but determined captain plowed westward today without Fritz Wiedemann and Dr. Hans Borchers, expelled German consuls-general who missed the vessel on purpose, then spent 12 hectic hours trying to catch it.

The two top-ranking Nazis refused to board the N.Y.K. liner Yawata Maru with their staffs and families yesterday, fearing that without a British guarantee of safe conduct across the Pacific they would be risking seizure at sea.

Two hours or so after the Yawata Maru had sailed, word came from the British embassy in Washington that the Nazis would not be molested en route. Wiedemann then tried frantically to have the ship stopped. He radioed the captain asking that the Yawata turn about and come back for them at the German government's expense.

But the Japanese master replied he was sorry, in these words:

"Please express our greatest regrets we are unable to accept request to return."

The U.S. government asked some time ago that all German consulates be closed by July 10 and the consuls withdrawn from the country.

Russians Say Nazis Run From Bayonets

MOSCOW (AP)—Russian accounts told of the annihilation of a so-called German regiment of death which had penetrated behind the Russian lines only to go down under bayonets and gunfire of a Soviet battalion.

The Russians, according to an account by Capt. A. Simonenko, in command of the battalion, first pounced on the Nazis after creeping up on them unawares in a village. The Germans fled in panic, leaving behind four cars and six tanks.

"Our troops undertook pursuit," said Capt. Simonenko. "The Russian bayonets found the enemy everywhere." Sixty Germans, including 10 officers, were slain here. Three successive attacks were made, in one of which 26 German planes were said to have bombed the Russians.

"Each time they were forced to retreat with great losses," the Russian captain reported. "The Germans cannot stand our bayonet charges. When we came to hand-to-hand fighting and showered them with hand grenades, the fascists fled in panic, abandoning arms and ammunition. In one such encounter the enemy left among other things 15 undamaged tanks."

Finally the Germans were scattered altogether in a night attack in which many killed and wounded Germans were said to have been left lying on the battlefield and in which the Russians captured 16 machine guns, two anti-tank guns, 16 motor trucks with ammunition, 12 motorcycles and 20 prisoners.

Izvestia, government newspaper, reported the Germans were trying to break the Russian lines by sending reckless young motorcyclists, 18 and 19 years old, speeding into Russian positions with shouts and wild shots in efforts to create panic.

It said these attacks were being met by calm marksmen who picked off the leaders and forced the others to fall back by a system of shallow, narrow trenches to upset the riders.

German infantry, running behind the motorcyclists with similar loud shouts and erratic fire, were said also to be met with a steady and accurate offensive fire.

Deny Alliance Planned With Chiang Kai-shek

LONDON (CP)—The British Broadcasting Corporation said London sources had denied reports being spread by Japanese news agencies to the effect Britain is about to conclude an alliance with the Chinese government of Gen. Chiang Kai-shek.

The BBC said that in London it is believed the reports are being publicized to stir up anti-British feeling.

Domel, Japanese news agency, also has broadcast a prophecy the United States would join the alliance, which it termed "a pact designed to encircle Japan."

Churchill Test

'No Truce or Parley With Grisly Nazi Gang'

NEW YORK (AP)—The text of Prime Minister Churchill's address as heard here by the National Broadcasting Corporation follows:

Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen: It seems to me odd that it should have taken the catastrophe of the Great World War to bring me for the first time to this hall, and I am very glad indeed to find that by the time the call came, the hall had not already ceased to exist. You have taken in this building some of the blows and scars which have fallen upon London, but, like the rest of London, you carry on.

Vigor, Efficiency Of London.

The impressive and inspiring spectacle we were witnessing in Hyde Park this morning displays the vigor and the efficiency of the civil defenses forces of London. They have grown up under the stress of emergency. They have been shaped and tempered by the fire of the enemy, and this morning we saw them all in their many grades and classes—the rescue and first aid parties, the casualty service, the decontamination squads, the fire service, the report and control centre staffs, the highways and public utilities services, the messengers, the people. All these were seen in our lovely English summer morning, marching past, men, women, in all the pomp and panoply of war, though it is war, but of civic duty. There they marched, and as one saw them passing by, no one would but feel how great a people, how great a nation we have the honor to belong to.

How varied, complex, sensitive, sincere is the society we have evolved over centuries in this island, how capable it is of withstanding the most prodigious, the most unexpected and the most fractious strains!

Attacks on London Unexampled in History

The first thing we saw this morning were the representatives of nearly a quarter of a million organized staff, servants in the defence of London, who in one way or another stand at their posts and take an active part in the maintenance of the life of London and of Greater London attack, which when it began and while it was at its pitch was unexampled in history. And what we saw today in Hyde Park was only symbolic of what can be produced, though on a smaller scale, throughout the length and breadth of this competent and embattled island.

In September last, ladies and gentlemen, having been defeated in his invasion by the Royal Air Force, Hitler declared his intention to raze the cities of Britain to the ground.

And in the early days of that month he set the whole fury of the Huns upon London. None of us quite knew what would be the result of a concentrated and prolonged bombardment of this vast centre of population. Here, in the Thames Valley, over 8,000,000 people had a very high level of modern civilization. They were dependent from day to day upon light, heat, power, water, sewage and communications of the most complicated character. The administration of London in all its branches was confronted with problems hitherto unknown in London.

Public order, public health, the maintenance of all the essential services, the handling of the millions of people who go in and out of London every day, the shelter not indeed from the enemy's bombs, for that is beyond us, but from their blasts and Spitfires, the shelter of millions of men and women, taking the dead and wounded from the shattered buildings, the care of the wounded where hospitals are being ruthlessly bombed, the provision for the homeless, sometimes amounting to many thousands in a single day, and accumulating to many more after three or four days of successive attack, the welfare and the education amid these scenes of our great numbers of children, here, all these present a task which, viewed in cold blood beforehand, might well have seemed overwhelming.

Plans Once Made To Move Government

Indeed, before the war, when imagination painted the pictures of what might happen in great air raids of our cities, plans were made to move the government, to move all the great controlling services which centre in London and disperse them about the countryside. And also it was considered a very great danger which had to be met that some wave of panic would send millions of people running out into the countryside over all the roads.

Well, ladies and gentlemen, when you are doing your duty and you are sure of that, you needn't worry too much about the dangers or the consequences.

We have not moved in this war, except by the promptings of duty and conscience and, therefore, we did not need to be deterred from our action by the picture which our imagination and which careful thought painted of what the consequences were, and in the long run, as so often happens in grave times, the evils were found not to be insurmountable or unmanageable, and so far from having to control the panic rush out of London, one of the principal difficulties of the municipal bodies represented here has been to deter an undue return of those who had already been evacuated in order to share the ups and downs, the dark and the bright fortunes of this mighty gathering.

Analysis of Results Of Air Raids

I must say, however, I admit when the storm broke in September, I was for several weeks very anxious about what the results would be. We were then not prepared, as we are now. Our defences had not the advantages they have since the raids. I must admit I feared greatly the injury to our public utility services; I feared the ravages of fire; I feared the dislocation of life; I feared the stoppage of work; I feared the epidemics of serious diseases or even pestilence among the crowds who took refuge in our by no means completely constructed or well-equipped shelters.

I remember one winter evening driving to a railway station which still worked, on my way north to visit the troops, but it was cold and raining; darkness had almost fallen on the blacked-out streets. I saw long queues of people, among them hundreds of your girls in their silk stockings and high-heeled shoes, who had worked hard all day and were waiting for bus after bus which came by already overcrowded, never reaching their homes for the night, and when at that moment the doleful wail of sirens betokened the approach of the German bombers, I can tell you my heart bled for London and for Londoners.

Never Any Doubt Of London's Courage

This sort of thing went on for more than four months. I used to hold a meeting of my ministerial colleagues, all the ministers, every week, in Downing Street, in order to check up and see how we stood. Sometimes the gas had failed over large areas, the only means of cooking for great numbers of people, sometimes the electricity—never breathing a complaint about their shelters or about conditions in them. The water was cut off, railways were cut or broken; large districts were destroyed by fire; 20,000 people were killed and many more thousands were wounded. But there was one thing about which there was never any doubt—the courage, the unflinching, unconquerable grit and stamina of the Londoners showed itself from the very outset.

Without that, all would have failed. But upon that rock all stood unconquerable; all the public services were carried on and all the intricate arrangements, far-reaching details, involving the daily lives of so many millions, were carried out, were improvised, elaborated and perfected in the very teeth of the cruel and devastating storms.

I am very glad to come here today to pay my tribute and to record in the name of His Majesty's government our gratitude to all the civil authorities of London who first, under Sir John Anderson, and from the darkest moment under the courageous and resourceful leadership of Mr. Herbert Morrison, so long master of London County Council, and now acting in even larger spheres, all of whom carried out their duties faithfully, skilfully and devotedly so that at least we make our way through the tempest and came for the time being, at any rate, into a calm spell.

During her long ordeal, London was upheld by the sympathy and the admiration of the other great cities of our island, and let us not forget loyal Belfast in northern Ireland. And when after the enemy, wearied of his attack on the capital, turned to other parts of the country, it is no extravagance of speech to say that many of us in our hearts felt anxiety lest the weight of attack concentrated upon these smaller organisations would prove more effective than when directed upon London.

However, the staunchness and vigor of London was shown by the splendid behavior of our ports and cities when they in turn received the full violence of the enemy's assault. London is so vast and so strong, she is like a pre-historic monster into whose armored hide showers of arrows can be shot in vain. But a full measure of cruelty has been inflicted upon the great cities and seaports of the country, and I say here when we are entitled to speak of London particularly, I say here that we honor them for their constancy in a comradeship of courage, of endurance and of triumph. Fellowship under this unprecedented novel pressure, hideous pressure, applied to modern communities, has united us all, and it has proved to the world the quality of our island life.

I have no doubt whatever, as I said to the forces, the civil defence forces in Hyde Park this morning, that the behavior of the British people under this trial gains them progress in the minds and spirits and sympathy of the United States of America, which sweeps into ignominy all the finest tricks of Goebbels' propaganda.

We have to ask ourselves this question, Will the bombing attacks of last autumn and winter come back again? Mr. Chairman, we are proceeding on the assumption that they will.

Some months ago, I requested my right honorable friend, the Home Secretary and Minister of Home Security, and his principal colleagues, the Minister of Health and others, to make every preparation for the autumn and winter war, and if we should have to go through the same ordeal as last year, only rather worse, I am assured that everything is being done in accordance with those directions. The shelters are being strengthened, improved, lighted and warmed. All arrangements for fire control and fire watching are being improved, perfected. Many new arrangements are being contrived after the results of the hard experience through which we have passed, and many mistakes no doubt we have made. Our success is the result of making mistakes and learning from experience.

London Is Ready, Will Not Wince

In the lull, many new arrangements have been made, and if the lull is to end, if the storm is to renew itself, London will not wince, London can take it again. We ask no favors of the enemy. We seek from them no compassion. On

No Separate Peace

British Welcome Russia Pact

LONDON (CP)—London papers today applauded the new British-Russian pact with headlines and editorials.

The Daily Herald, Labor, proclaimed: "Russia becomes our ally."

The Herald's diplomatic correspondent said the agreement was an alliance "in the strict sense of the term," and derided "some official pedant who produced the astonishing dictum that we and the Russians are not allies but 'co-belligerents.'"

Editorially, the Herald said the agreement would be "greeted with deep and general satisfaction in both countries, and indeed, by all the world other than the supporters and dupes of Hitler."

The Daily Mail, Conservative, in a page one article by its diplomatic correspondent, Wilson Broadbent, predicted, Poland would be joined to the pact in the next few days.

Editorially, the Mail said the agreement was the "logical outcome" of Prime Minister Churchill's announced policy, which should be "welcomed as both realistic and resourceful."

SIGNED IN MOSCOW

The pact was signed Saturday night in Moscow. The text follows:

"Agreement for joint action by the government of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and His Majesty's government in the United Kingdom in war against Germany."

"The government of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and His Majesty's government in the United Kingdom have concluded the present agreement and declare as follows:

"1. The two governments mutually undertake to render each other assistance and support of all kinds in the present war against Hitlerite Germany."

"2. They further undertake that during this war they will neither negotiate nor conclude an armistice or treaty of peace except by mutual agreement."

"The present agreement has been concluded in duplicate in the Russian and English languages. Both texts have equal force."

"Moscow, July 12, 1941."

(Signed) "By the authority of the government of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics: Molotov, deputy president of the Council of People's Commissars and People's Commissar for Foreign Affairs of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics."

the contrary, if tonight the people of London were asked to cast their votes as to whether convention should be entered into to stop the bombing of all cities, an overwhelming majority would cry, "No! We will mete out to the Germans the measure and more than the measure they have meted out to us. The people of London with one voice would say to Hitler: 'You have committed every crime under the sun. Where you have been the least resisted, there you have been the most brutal. It was you who began the indiscriminate bombing. We remember Warsaw in the very first few days of the war. We remember Rotterdam. We have been duly reminded of your habits by the hideous massacre in Belgrade. We know too well the bestial assaults you are making upon the Russian people to whom our hearts go out in their valiant struggle.'"

We will have no truce or parley with you or the grisly gang who have worked your wicked will. You do your worst and we will do our best."

Germans Will Suffer And Know Torment

Perhaps it may be our turn soon, perhaps it may be our turn now. Ladies and gentlemen, we live in a terrible epoch of the human story, but we believe there is a broad and sure justice running through its theme. It is time that the German should be made to suffer in their own homeland and cities something of the torments they have let loose upon their neighbors and upon the world. We have intensified for months past the systematic, scientific, methodical bombing on a large scale of the German cities, seaports, industries and other military objectives. We believe it to be in our power to keep this process going on a steadily rising tide, month after month, year after year, until the Nazi regime is either extirpated by us or, better still, torn to pieces by the German people themselves.

Every month as the great bombers are finished in our factories or sweep Hitler across the Atlantic Ocean, we shall continue the monstrous discharge of high explosives upon Germany. Every month will see the tonnage increase and the nights lengthened and the range of our people also grown to that unhappy, abject, subject province of Germany, which used to be called Italy. They will have their fair share, too.

Only Beginning To Bomb Germany

In the last few weeks alone, we have thrown upon Germany about half the tonnage of bombs thrown by the Germans upon our cities during the whole course of the war. But this is only the beginning. And we hope by next July to multiply our deliveries manifold. It is for this reason, ladies and gentlemen, Mr. Chairman and Mr. Minister, Mr. Home Secretary and other ministers concerned—and it is for this reason that I must ask you to be prepared for severest counter-action by the enemy.

Our methods of dealing with the German night raiders have greatly improved and are steadily improving. They no longer relish their trips to our shores. It is not true to say that they did not come this afternoon because they were all engaged in Russia. They have a bombing force in the west quite capable of making very heavy attacks. I do not know why they did not come, but, as I mentioned in Hyde Park, it is certainly not because they have begun to love us more. It may be because they are saving up, but even if that is so, the very fact that they have to save up should give us heart by revealing the truth of our steady advance from an almost unarmored condition to a position at least of equality and soon of superiority to them in the air.

But all engaged in our civil defence, whether in London or throughout the country, must prepare themselves, ladies and gentlemen, for further hideous assaults. Your organizations, your vigilance, your devotion to duty, your zeal for the cause, must be raised to highest intensity. We do not expect to be hit without giving back, and we intend with every week that passes to hit harder. Prepare yourselves, my friends and comrades, in the battle of London for the renewal of your exertions. We shall not turn from our purpose, however grievous the cost. Because we know out of this time of trial and tribulation will be born a new freedom and glory for all of mankind.

People in the News

War for Religion

The present war was being fought for the defence of religion and of civilization, attacked by a tyrannical nation, CARDINAL VILLENEUVE, told 900 officers and men at the training camp at Sherbrooke, Quebec.

Speaking of what he termed the general principles which guided church authorities in wartime, Cardinal Villeneuve said "the government of the country declared war for reasons which are in the public interest." He praised the war effort of Quebec province and of the entire country.

'France Will Rise'

On Bastille Day, France's traditional holiday of independence, FOREIGN SECRETARY ANTHONY EDEN and GEN. CHARLES DE GAULLE, leader of the Free French Forces, sent messages to the independence newspaper France, published in London.

"The 14th of July symbolizes the ideas of Liberty and those freedoms for which we are fighting," Mr. Eden said. "An anniversary will soon come when the uniforms of the German army and the Gestapo will have disappeared from French soil, and the Champs Elysees will once more echo with the measured tread of the gallant fighting forces of a France restored to independence and greatness."

Gen. De Gaulle remarked: "Today we represent not only an ideal but also a force which counts in the world." "Our soldiers, sailors and airmen have proved that France has not abdicated," he said. "They have shown the tricolor in Libya and Ethiopia. The name of France remains associated in Africa with victory."

"In Syria this army has sustained fighting no less hard, but infinitely more painful. The equivocal situation created by Vichy had to be settled by the sword. But we cannot rejoice over the successes obtained against our brothers. We shall continue to mourn our dead in Syria, but those who fell in our own ranks and their adversaries, victims of the treason of a few men who sacrificed France the better to serve Hitler."

Conscription Urged

An accelerated war effort and calls for compulsory national service were the keynotes of July 12 rallies' speakers as Canada's Orangemen celebrated the 251st

'Chance of a Lifetime' at

JULY CLEARANCE

anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne.

Thousands of Orangemen marched to the shrill of the fife and the throb of the drum. Largest parades and celebrations were at Smiths Falls, Ont., invaded by 15,000 Orangemen from surrounding eastern Ontario districts and at Toronto where 4,000 paraded and an additional 10,000 thronged Exhibition Park for the ceremonies.

No parades or public demonstrations were held at Halifax, but at the annual Orangemen's service REV. EDWARD MORRIS of St. Matthias Anglican Church said "our federal premier should come right out with conscription and not allow any power, secular or religious, to hold a stick over his head." He maintained the people of Canada favored conscription.

At Smiths Falls, a resolution calling upon the federal government for immediate adoption of conscription of industry, wealth and manpower, was unanimously passed by the gathering, and a number of speakers advocated immediate use of a policy of conscription to fill the rank of Canada's fighting forces.

No Peace With Nazis

CLEMENT ATTLEE, British Lord Privy Seal, said in Neath, Wales, it was probable Hitler "hoped to be able to launch from Moscow a great peace offensive."

"I dare say," he added, "he will find some pacifists to respond. There are still a certain number of amiable, gullible, woolly-minded people... who still go about bleating about peace by negotiation."

"He may catch a few weary people here and there and a few peace-at-any-price people who put their private fortunes above the public weal."

"I can assure you he will deceive no one in the government... we will not make peace with the Nazi gang. It would be a betrayal of everything for which this country stands."

LOANS

FOR EMPLOYED MEN AND WOMEN

How you can borrow on your own responsibility and repay in convenient monthly instalments — $7.78 a month repays $100 loan in fifteen months — Quick, private service

CAN you make good use of $100? Would a cash loan help you? If you have steady employment, you are invited to apply for a Household Finance loan up to $500. You need no endorsers or guarantors. Your employer will not be notified.

You are the only one required to sign the loan papers (husband and wife sign together). It is not necessary to ask friends or fellow-workers to sign with you. Nor do we question others about your money affairs. Loans are usually made on furniture or car. But we consider character and regular income far more important than the value of your security. You can get your loan quickly—usually in 24 hours, even sooner if necessary.

Choose your own plan. You may choose your own repayment schedule. Notice that $7.78 a month repays a $100 loan in fifteen months.

Or, if you wish to repay more quickly, ten instalments of $11.13, or twelve payments of $9.46 will retire a loan of $100. Fifteen monthly instalments of $11.67 each will repay a $150 loan in full, and as little as $23.35 a month will pay up a $300 loan in 15 months. Consult the table below for the loan you need and the payment you wish to make each month, then come in or telephone us.

Considerate treatment

During the past eight years we have made over 330,000 loans, totalling more than $52,000,000. Never have we foreclosed a mortgage or garnished a wage cheque. Fair treatment of customers has helped to make Household Finance the largest personal loan firm in Canada.

If a loan can help you solve a money problem, we invite you to phone or visit us. Your inquiry will receive our prompt attention.

Mr. Churchill's Promise

ONE OF THE REMARKS TO WHICH MR. Churchill gave voice in two speeches today is worth noting, not only for its intrinsic promise of action most needed, but also because it should be taken as a complete answer to those mealy-mouthed sentimentalists who were wont to roll their eyes to high heaven every time bombing reprisals became the subject of heated controversy in British newspapers. Here are the Prime Minister's words:

"It is time the Germans should be made to suffer in their own homeland and cities something of the torments they have twice in our lifetime let loose upon their neighbors and upon the world. We have now intensified for the past month a systematic, scientific and methodical bombing on a large scale of German cities and industries and other military objectives . . . and this is only the beginning."

No doubt there are those among us who believe "a sadistic strain, perhaps the hereditary relic of an untutored ancestry, still finds its expression in the recurring plea that there should be reprisals for German bombings of civilians." We have quoted one British Columbia newspaper that assumed a horrible mental shock when the Bishop of Coventry said "a nation is not necessarily morally degraded if it does terrible things in war against its will and because it is forced to do it," and the same paper then proceeded to ask "what would be gained in her own self-respect, in the moral estimation of the world, if Great Britain lowered herself to the level of the enemy?"

Reprisals, of course, became an instrument of Royal Air Force policy as soon as the valiant men who fly the Wellingtons and the Hampdens had sufficient craft at their disposal to strike at enemy morale as well as enemy industrial establishments. Goering's Luftwaffe began indiscriminate bombing after the daylight raids of last fall had proven too costly. Now Hitlerized Germans know what it feels like to sit up nights waiting for their British visitors. Nor is this the time to worry about them, to waste a minute on wondering what the world thinks; the Allies' job is that of ridding the Reich of as many of Hitler's crowd as possible in the shortest period.

No Separate Peace

GREAT BRITAIN AND SOVIET RUSSIA have entered into an agreement of mutual assistance and have pledged themselves to make no peace with the enemy unless by common consent. The pact became operative as soon as the signatures had been appended. All the Dominions and the United States were informed of the negotiations which led up to the arrangement completed during the week-end.

Two decades of pacts and treaties have created a feeling of skepticism throughout the world; the plain man had begun to regard international agreements as instruments more conspicuous for their breach than for the observance of their spirit and intent. But this latest undertaking is one between two former military allies; true, the relationship which has existed between their respective governments since the first Great War has been tempered by the varying breezes of political and ideological beliefs. It is nevertheless to the point to remember that the persistent cry of the Russian people during and since the last of the Czars has been one for freedom. Our new Allies will be nearer to their goal when Hitlerized Germany has become a bad dream.

It is highly important to the cause of free men that Russia shall remain a belligerent in spite of all the hardships she may be called upon to bear. Stalin's party existence depends upon the political stability of the nation as well as the fullest military cohesion. If this pact shall be faithfully honored by the Soviet Union—and there is every reason to believe it will be—the war's duration should be considerably shortened.

'Bombers Will Win the War'

ALTHOUGH IT WOULD BE FOOLISH TO take literally any prediction, no matter upon what expert knowledge and understanding it may be based, as to what will be the final determining factor in the war, an observation from Captain H. T. Balfour, British Under-Secretary of State for Air, now on a tour of examination in this country, confirms a belief held by many realists that the aerial bomber is the most effective argument the Allies can use against the common enemy. Not that such a contention automatically reduces Britain's dependence on constant additions to her navy, her merchant marine, or that Dominion and colonial supplies of machines and men become one whit less important now than at any time since American aerial aid began to assume imposing proportions. But the daily and nightly offensive the Royal Air Force began a few weeks ago bears witness to the fact that if Hitler's ramified arsenal can be pounded at home—as it has been pounded in the vital Ruhr basin, and, indeed, in all that area embraced by the industrial Rhineland—with growing intensity, such success as may attend the Nazi invasion of the Soviet Union must be discounted commensurately.

Captain Balfour naturally recognizes that the war will not be won by defence and that is the reason why he is encouraged by the initiative which the R.A.F. now is taking with such excellent results. And this part of the distinguished visitor's observations is especially interesting in view of the rapid strides the Empire Air Training Plan is making in Canada:

"The Hurricanes and Spitfires can save our factories and our cities, but bombers will win the war; we'll blast the enemy's industries into the sky—that's the way we'll win the war."

Germany's one hope last fall, of course, was mastery of the skies over the English Channel and the North Sea—the prerequisite to any successful invasion attempt. Instead of gaining this advantage, however, Goering's Luftwaffe got the shock of its ill-starred life when it began daylight attacks on Britain in mass formations last August, finally bowing to the inevitable change of tactics as soon as it became obvious the Hurricanes and the Spitfires could not only take it but dish it out with compound interest. So have the tables been turned. R.A.F. sweeps over Nazi-occupied territory and over the Reich proper are encouraging on two counts: It is taking the fight right into the enemy's camp; it is proving to Hitler and his gang that British air power now commands the skies many miles distant from the island fortress.

Hopeless

VICTORIA'S VERY OWN MRS. GUM-midge of Broad Street has now begun to tell its readers that "Mr. Mackenzie King's policy of no conscription for overseas service is aiding the political tenets of American isolationists." Not content with finding fault with about everything the Canadian Prime Minister has ever done, said or thought since the people of this country, 20 years ago, first authorized him to form a ministry, our morning contemporary informed us yesterday that "the isolationists on the other side of the line are pointing out that it is a matter of choice with Canadians whether they fight where the fighting is," and that "this is one of the repercussions of the 'in-between' policy" of the government.

We brand the inference contained in the Colonist's latest example of illogical reasoning and narrow partisanship as wholly unjustified by fact, an insult to the intelligence of the Canadian people, and a gratuitous reflection on the good faith and understanding of those prominent citizens of Victoria who have had an opportunity in recent weeks of proving to their own satisfaction—by personal examination—that this country's war effort in all its vital and pressing particulars is the continually-expanding all-out program which Mr. Mackenzie King's government months ago promised should be the nation's contribution to the Empire's cause. It is on the record, moreover, that two all-embracing international achievements standing to the everlasting credit of the present Prime Minister of the Dominion in the last year were the Ogdensburg Pact of August, 1940, and the Hyde Park Agreement of April, 1941. But not even the far-reaching importance and significance of these stepping-stones to greater and more effective American collaboration could elicit much commendation from the morning paper.

Will our contemporary now go a step further and tell us these undertakings consummated by Mr. King and President Roosevelt gave "comfort to a small but vocal group" in the United States who want to circumscribe that country's part in the struggle for freedom? But perhaps it is sufficient for all fair-minded Canadians to know that if their Prime Minister had not succeeded in respect of this nation's collaboration in hemispheric defence plans, in the vital economic agreement reached at Hyde Park three months ago, the present chest measurement of the neighboring Republic's isolationists would now be putting a severe strain on the three top buttons of their respective vests. We fear, however, the Colonist cannot rid itself of its colonialist-political outlook, no matter how compelling the facts which continue to stare it in the face.

MINISTRY OF ECONOMICS?

From Ottawa Journal

Reports that Prime Minister King is considering the creation of a Ministry of Economics, with a minister responsible for such matters as prices and wages, and at the same time integrating economic war policies, must be encouraging to many.

In the existing war administrative set-up there are a number of important committees dealing with vital economic problems. The trouble, as many see it, is that there is no member of the Cabinet to whom these committees can report directly; no one to fit the reports (and recommendations) into one single intelligible war picture.

An example of how the system works is found in the steps taken with respect to cost of living bonuses for civil servants. This matter has been referred to the Secretary of State; the ordinary channel for action on civil service problems. Unfortunately, the matter of cost of living bonuses for civil servants at this time is much more than a problem of routine administration; it is a part of the general war problem of wages, prices, control of the cost of living. It is an integral part of the government's policy under Order-in-Council 7440—should be considered as such, not by the Secretary of State, but by some minister who has the complete picture of war economic developments.

A separate Ministry of Economics, with a single minister co-ordinating the reports of all war committees and taking them to the Cabinet for explanation and action, almost necessarily would result in more clarity, more speedy and intelligent action.

ECSTASY

ON RETURNING to my home town I find to my amazement that the man chiefly in the news here is not Hitler or Stalin but a fellow named Darwin. The casual mention of his name in this column some weeks ago, just before I fortunately left town, appears to have driven a gentleman named Sanders into an ecstasy of Evolution and, judging by the clippings from this newspaper, Evolution is still proceeding rapidly on Foul Bay Road.

It will proceed henceforth in spite of me. There is no use Mr. Sanders filling this newspaper with quotations from the great scientists and overwhelming us with $10 words and continually barking up the wrong tree. He is talking about something else entirely. The two ideas represented in this jolly controversy will never be resolved by such evidence and are not likely to be affected much by anything we say here. Mr. Sanders, with a true scientific approach, concludes that those who believe in anything but matter are spiritual partners of Hitler, where he himself, on the contrary, follows Einstein. By this same syllogism we find that Hitler is a Christian and Christians are Nazis. It was Euclid, I think, who had a name for such reasoning, calling it reductio ad absurdum, in the true scientific approach.

However, Mr. Sanders having removed God Almighty from the universe in four letters to the editor, four easy lessons by mail, and in less time than was required for the Creation, we can go on now with the day's work, after witnessing the neatest trick of the season.

WESTERN

A MAN WRITES apologetically to the Christian Science Monitor to confess, to the full extent of a thousand words, that he likes to see western, hair-pant movies. I cannot imagine why he wouldn't or why he has to make a public confession of it. Of course the hair-pant movies are the best of all and anyone who doesn't like them must have progressed further in the scale of evolution than is good for him.

That is what the movies are for—to take us out of ourselves, and the best way to take us out of ourselves is to put us into hair pants for an hour or two. Other continents have other legends and other fairylands. Our fairyland in America is the western ranch and our fairy godmother is a fellow riding a white horse. These things evolve, after a while, in the mind of a people, by the true scientific approach. They serve their purpose well and have provided for millions and millions of people an escape from an age which started to develop with Darwin and is now in its full flower.

On the whole, a better fairyland than the old-fashioned one, which was rather too sickly-sweet. The Wild West, which never existed, has just enough sin in it for our purposes, virtue is always rewarded and all men but the villain are heroic. That is the true creation of the movies and they need not be ashamed of it.

Some day the movies will achieve another purpose. They will seriously discuss the problems of life and the problems of society, as the legitimate stage discusses them. But there is no use doing that until you are prepared to go the whole way, for various economic and business reasons. The phoney discussion of a problem, the specious half-discussion, is worse than none at all—the attempt, for instance, to suggest the solution of America's vast problem of poverty merely by giving the hero a vine-covered cottage in the last scene.

Some day Hollywood will be free to plunge into realism, as the stage has done, but not yet. Semi-realism is pure fake. But the complete unreality of the western picture, the phantasy accepted by producer and audience, is just right. The more I look at the world, the better I like the Wild West.

THROUGH THE TEETH

THE LITTLE BOY next door was telling me about the same thing today. In my absence, he said, he had learned to spit through his teeth, like a cowboy. All the bad men, he said, spat through their teeth and he gave me a vivid impression of bad men over the rail of the porch, down upon the bed of hollyhocks. I said I had never learned this accomplishment. He said you must have the right kind of teeth, spaced well apart. He wasn't very good at the moment, he said, because it was the middle of the day. You can do it better early in the morning, he said, after you have rested through the night, or after swimming, when you are moist. At noon, he said, you are dried out this weather, the results are mediocre and you can hardly hit the hollyhocks.

WHAT WE OUT HERE ESCAPE

Hot Weather Hints letter in the New York Times:

To the Editor: In hot weather many people find it difficult to fall asleep. Here are a few good tricks: In bed, cool the back of the neck or the wrists with a tight-seal jar filled with ice cubes, or with a hot-water bag containing ice water, or with an ice-cold tin of pineapple or grapefruit juice or whatever you can find in the refrigerator.

Noise in hot weather annoys us more than at other times. A 10-cent can of oil will last for months and should be used to stop the squeaks on pulleys, baby carriages, kiddie cars, bicycles and door hinges.

Let us think of our neighbors and turn down the radio.

ROSE RUBINSTEIN.

The army of our day was not like this. The old-time sergeant used language to be found nowhere now but in one of those stark novels.

ATTACK WHEN?

The suggestion that Britain should launch an immediate land invasion against the continent of Europe is about the most fantastic proposal yet made. We will certainly have to invade lands now held by the Nazis before we win this war. There is nothing either in history, nor in the facts of this war, to suggest that it can be ended otherwise than all past wars—by the ability of the victor to occupy all or part of the country of the loser in order to impose his will.

But we are far from strong enough as yet to attempt a large scale all-out invasion of the continent. An attempt to do so before we are ready might be the quickest way to lose the war.

Nobody in Britain who knows may tell our real strength there. But Max Werner's new book—"Battle for the World"—puts the total number of British divisions on guard in Britain between 30 and 40. The layman is often deceived by all the talk about the 4,000,000 men on guard in Britain. A large proportion of these consists of home guard, or what we in Canada call militia of one kind or another.

In a German invasion of Britain all of this 4,000,000 would fit into the defence machine. They have been organized for specific tasks. But they are not cogs in an army machine ready to turn over under all war conditions.

RAIDS LIKELY

If things continue to go well in Russia I would expect British forces to be used in ever increasing numbers, not for invasion, but for raids. It is no secret that for months past the British have been raiding points along the coast of France, and that one parachute landing force actually stayed in France for more than 48 hours, with striking local success.

The British cannot risk a large scale clash with the 65 German divisions which the Germans still have in western Europe, available to repel an invasion on a few days notice.

But raids with limited objectives are another matter. It might be that in such raids we would be able to attack, by air, sea and land forces certain key points on the northern coast of continental Europe.

It might be that once we got there we would find that we could hang on to those points, as footholds on the continent, and future jumping off places for attack. If so, it would be possible to duplicate the tactics time and again.

But the difference between a raid and an invasion is obvious. In an invasion it is all or nothing. You go in to stay. In a raid you go in all set to get out again in a hurry if the other fellow is too strong. That, I think, is what we will try.

OXFORD COLLEGES FINED

From The Times, London

Two Oxford colleges were fined at Oxford for buying eggs at more than the permitted maximum prices. The Master and Fellows of University College were fined 5s and John Watts, a farmer of Long Whittenham, was fined 5s for supplying eggs to the college at 2s 11½d a dozen, 2½d more than the maximum. It was stated for the defence that the order had not been published sufficiently and that the defendants were unaware of the restriction.

In the second case the Provost, Fellows, and Scholars of Worcester College were fined 15s, and Florence Bartlett of the Market Oxford, was fined 15s. The prosecuting solicitor said that the eggs were sold at 3s instead of 2s 6d.

The Junior Bursar said the college had been buying eggs from the same source for six years without complaint, and Miss Bartlett said that she had a stall in the market and was working on a purely voluntary basis for the Oxfordshire Federation of Women's Institutes.

'Crazy Show' at Capitol Wednesday

Few persons realize there is a right and wrong way to disrobe at night, but Rolle Rolland is out to show one and all just how the task of undressing should be done. In her version of "How to Undress With Finesse," one of the acts of "Crazy Show," opening Wednesday on the Capitol stage, Rolle displays the method of getting ready for a night's sleep.

"Reaching for the Sun," starring Joel McCrea and Ellen Drew, is the romantic comedy screen show opening with the "Crazy Show." McCrea is seen as a lazy clam digger whose chief aim in life is to obtain an outboard engine. Ellen Drew is cast as a roving girl friend.

Also in "Crazy Show" are Shaw and Lee, Frances Willis, Jackson and Nedra, Raye and Arthur and Stan Lawson, the tall comedienne.

ARMY COMEDY ON PLAZA SCREEN

Whittier, brighter and more colorful than any comedy of the season, and with a theme as modern as 1941, Republic's "Rookies On Parade," presents tunes and laughs and a cast which includes Bob Crosby, Eddie Foy Jr., Ruth Terry, Marie Wilson, Gertrude Niesen, Cliff Nazarro, Sidney Blackmer and William Wright at the Plaza Theatre.

The film presents bandleader Bob Crosby as a happy-go-lucky songwriter, who is always having trouble with his showgirl girlfriend, enacted by Ruth Terry. Crosby's inability to save his money for a marriage finally causes a complete break.

'Model Wife' to Show at Dominion

Ruth Donnelly, the character actress coming to the Dominion Theatre tomorrow in Universal's "Model Wife," thinks it's just swell of the fans to recognize her out in public—only they would recognize her as Ruth Donnelly and not three other people.

The other day she was window shopping and a lady rushed up and gushed, "Oh, Winnie Lightner, I simply had to come up and say 'hello.' You've always been a favorite of mine."

It wasn't so long ago that Miss Donnelly was in a beauty shop when she overheard a remark about her. "That's lovely Spring Byington." And once before she was confused with Mrs. Wally Beery. And another time with Mary Boland.

Creator of a hundred ad-brained chatterboxes professionally, the comedienne got her start on the New York stage in "A Prince There Was."

LAVISH GARDEN SET FOR HEPBURN

One of the most beautiful homes and gardens was created on a Hollywood sound stage for "The Philadelphia Story," starring Cary Grant, Katharine Hepburn and James Stewart, and opening today at the Cadet Theatre for an engagement of three days.

This scene of the picture, as well as that of the Philip Barry stage comedy success, is a conservative Philadelphia colonial style estate of the period of 1910. On the stage, it was limited to a few sets, but for the screen the Philadelphia estate was recreated with complete authenticity.

'BITTER SWEET' COWARD MUSICAL

The "escape" to realms of romance and musical charm which is invariably afforded by the MacDonald-Eddy musicals is assured to all who view their latest co-starring operetta, the picturization of Noel Coward's "Bitter Sweet," which opened today at the Oak Bay Theatre.

Filmed in Technicolor and replete with some of the most delightful music ever to reach the screen, "Bitter Sweet" presents Miss MacDonald as Sarah Millick, who elopes with her singing teacher, Carl Linden, enacted by Nelson Eddy.

'CONVOY' AT RIO GIVES SEA ACTION

The finest war film yet made, its authentic episodes of the British navy in dramatic action are knitted together with a grand, human story in "Convoy," now being shown at the Rio Theatre.

A vivid story of personal romance and heroism is developed with the action.
Clive Brook has the role of Capt. Armistead. John Clements gives a fine performance as a breezy lieutenant; Edward Chapman plays an obstinate skipper, while notable support is given by Judy Campbell, Penelope Dudley Ward, Charles Williams, Alan Jeayes and Al Millen.

EDGAR WALLACE STORY AT YORK

One of the most interesting film characterizations in recent months is that of Will Fyffe as "The Mysterious Mr. Reeder" in the movie of that title at the York Theatre. Fyffe plays the role of a gentle, middle-aged man whose astute deductions have won him fame as a detective. However, Mr. Reeder, as he is depicted in the film is an easy-going type until his best friend is murdered. Then he swears vengeance and goes into the very hiding place of the criminals to track down the slayer.

"The Mysterious Mr. Reeder" is based on the Edgar Wallace story, and Kay Walsh and George Curzon are featured in the film.

The War Today

By DON GILBERT
The statement of claims as regards the Russian front contained in Sunday's and today's communiques from the German high command suggest the German commanders expect developments of a decisive character within the next few days.

This seems to be the meaning of phrases in yesterday's communiques such as "the Stalin Line was broken through by bold storming at all decisive points," "German troops are at the gates of Leningrad," and in today's communiques, that "break-through operations" against the Stalin Line "continue on schedule."

LOSING FACE?
These inconclusive statements were quickly expanded by military spokesmen and Nazi writers into meaning the eastern campaign, now in its fourth week, is nearing an end, with the Red army quickly disintegrating. Leningrad, it was said, is in "immediate danger."

'THE MAD DOCTOR' MURDER MYSTERY

If advance reports from critics in film centres can be taken as a criterion, Paramount has another smash hit in the murder mystery drama "The Mad Doctor," which opens today at the Atlas Theatre. It is a story of a brilliant psychiatrist driven mad through the actions of an unfaithful wife. He forced her to commit suicide through the power of suggestion. Following this act, he has but one obsession in life, to marry as many wealthy women as possible and then scientifically put them out of the way. His plan clicks with macabre reality until he meets and falls in love with an extremely rich and beautiful young girl.

CAPITOL THEATRE
It's easier to get information on ancient Greek civilization than it is to get authentic records of old San Francisco, it was learned by Warner Bros. research department when it attempted to find photos of former-day saloons and ferryboats for the filming of "The Sea Wolf," the new Warner Bros. film starring Edward G. Robinson, Ida Lupino and John Garfield, and now at the Capitol Theatre.

paign, now in its fourth week, is nearing an end, with the Red army quickly disintegrating. Leningrad, it was said, is in "immediate danger."

The sweeping interpretations put it up to the German army to make good the accomplishments foreshadowed in the high command's communiques. Leningrad or Kiev must be captured, or some other tangible evidence of victory must be produced before long if the German army is not to lose face.

RUSSIAN BULLETINS
Nothing could be read into the Soviet communiques issued over the weekend and today to indicate the decisive changes in the front have taken place. The Red army is giving ground where German pressure is heaviest, it was considered, but the counter-attacking spirit of the Soviet forces is claimed to continue unimpaired.

Military observers in London see the German left wing, headed for Leningrad, as the most dangerous of the three main German drives.

However, the Germans are still 150 miles from Leningrad, and it is probable the entire distance is heavily fortified.

STRAIGHTEN LINE
London observers say that in the south Soviet withdrawals have been made in the Kiev direction to keep that sector of the front line with the centre, and were not necessitated by German pressure. What the Germans mean by being "at the gates of Kiev" is not known, for specific details are withheld.

Syrian Armistice Now Fully Signed

ACRE, Palestine (AP)—Delegates representing Britain, the Free French movement and Vichy met here again today and signed the armistice ending the war in Syria. It had been initiated Saturday night. Thus came to an end 34 days of warfare.

Representing the Free French in the negotiations which coincided with Bastille Day was Gen. Georges Catroux, De Gaulle's leader in the Middle East, who is under Vichy death sentence in absentia. With him were two aides.

Representing Vichy were Gen. Andre de Verdillac, with military, naval and air force aides, and Jean Conti, political delegate representing Gen. Henri Dentz in the latter's capacity of high commissioner for Syria and Lebanon.

The British delegation, headed by Gen. Sir Maitland Wilson, included representatives of the navy and the Royal Air Force. The delegates discussed the new Allied order in Syria and Lebanon.

Fliers Lose Mascot

Crash is dead. The little air force mascot, who three months ago broke his leg at the Alford Bay station, had to be destroyed. The accident happened last April when the pup caught his leg in a slamming door in the photographic section. He was given first aid and treated in the R.C.A.F. hospital. Paraded before the M.C., hospitalization in a nearby town was ordered. There he was X-rayed, an operation performed and the leg set.

Two bones were not set straight, however, and on a vote of the station personnel Crash was sent to a Victoria specialist. The necessary money was collected and a squadron leader and an aircraftman flew him here. Because of bad weather the trip took three days, the plane making a forced landing on one occasion when the engine caught on fire. A fishing boat picked them up.

In Victoria, Crash was again X-rayed, new casts were made and new expense involved. The Y.M.C.A. secretary at Patricia Bay arranged the extra financing and the second operation. After six weeks in the hospital he was cared for by the wife of Sgt. Lewis at Patricia Bay.

Progressing rapidly and waiting for the time when he would again see the men he knew at Alford Bay, Crash took dissembler and became partially paralyzed. He was then put out of his misery.

L.A.C. Williams, R.C.A.F., Patricia Bay, and Lorne Brown, Y.M.C.A. secretary at the same station, followed closely the progress of the little pup. Now that he has gone they intend to send another one to the men at the west coast station.

Jim Squire Leads Junior Golf Field

With a score of 75, Jim Squire paced the field at the end of the first 18 holes of the Victoria Golf Club's junior championship on Saturday. Ian Gillespie was second with 78. Other scores follow: John Watson, 79; Andrew Gillespie, 86; Alistair Macdonald, 88; and Howard Baker, 89.

The second half will be played Saturday. The draw follows: 9.00—Jim Squire vs. Ian Gillespie.

9.05—John Watson vs. Andrew Gillespie.
9.10—Alistair Macdonald vs. Howard Baker.

Whirlaway Looks Certain Winner

NEW YORK (AP)—It might be a good idea for the Arlington Park big-wigs to borrow the New York Yankees scouting staff for the next two weeks to hunt up a three-year-old horse who might run with Whirlaway in the classic.

Because, unless something new turns up between now and classic day, July 26, there doesn't seem to be any reason for running the race. Just give Whirlly the $40,000 or so and hold a fashion show or fish fry at the race track that day.

If there was any lingering hope that a new face would arrive to be rated as a threat to the reign of Warren Wright's Kentucky cannonball among the three-year-olds, Saturday's developments just about finished it. Hugh Nesbitt's Staretor beat Porter's Cap in the Hollywood Derby in California—and the last time Staretor had a look at Whirlly, he had to look eight lengths up the track to see his flying tail. That was in the Kentucky Derby.

At the same time, Roy Martin's Our Boots, who held an extra-special jinx on Whirlaway as late as last April 26, when he whipped Whirlaway by five lengths in the Blue Grass stakes, was beaten by a head by Mrs. Payne Whitney's Swing and Sway in the Empire City Handicap.

Of course, Swing and Sway put up a new track record of 1:50. But if you're hoping he'll beat Whirlly, just remember that Swing and Sway had won only one previous race as a three-year-old, that he has run more bad ones than good, and that Whirlly can turn on the heat a little bit himself when he has to.

SCORES DODO

E. C. Senkler, longtime member of the Victoria Golf Club, achieved a long-cherished ambition Saturday when he scored a hole-in-one on the 150-yard second hole. He was playing with C. L. Peterson, St. Louis, and Dr. A. J. Garesche.

RIGGS WINS TITLE

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Bobby Riggs of Clinton, S.C., trounced United States champion Don McNeill of Gambier, O., yesterday to win the western tennis championship in the men's singles, 7-5, 3-6, 10-8, 6-4.

Russia occupies about one-seventh of the land surface of the globe.

Noted Artists Paint Scenes of Victoria

Victoria and Vancouver, as a mecca for artists from Europe, is typified in the presence here in recent days of two noted painters, one an Englishwoman and the other a Dane, who maintain that the scenery of this island is unsurpassed anywhere in the world. Emily Mary Bibbens Warren, R.B.A., of London, whose great panels depicting the placing of the colors of the 1st and 2nd Canadian divisions (1914-18) in Westminster Abbey now hang in the Hall of Fame of the Parliament Buildings at Ottawa, has been visiting her cousin, Mrs. Horace Hamlet, 1007 Amphion Street.

H. J. A. Tygesen of Copenhagen, whose paintings of British Columbia scenery hang in many of the large galleries of Europe, is spending some time on the island, transferring to canvas his impressions of western mountains, seashore, lakes and woods. He went to England prior to the German invasion of his country in Ottawa. Her English home is "Rosemary," West Clandon, Surrey.

POPULAR IN EUROPE

Mr. Tygesen has been to British Columbia before and has done many fine paintings of this pro-vince's scenery, which he says have been popular in Europe.

"Germany will be occupied in Russia for years—and Great Britain, I believe now, will land troops once more in France and go into Germany," he said.

"It will not be trench warfare, because that is out of date. And when Britain does this all the conquered countries will march with her to victory."

German rule is not being supported in Denmark, Mr. Tygesen says, although he has had no communication with his brothers and sisters there since the Nazis marched in.

"I am sure of one thing—that the Nazis will meet their doom. The German people can't go on indefinitely like this. They are getting fed up, as you say on this continent," he said.

Dizzy Dean Hurls For Class D Club

SIoux FALLS, S.D. (AP)—Jerome (Dizzy) Dean made his first appearance in Class D baseball last night—a surprise three-inning stretch for the Sioux Falls Canaries of the Western League.

The Canaries won 7 to 4 over the Pueblo Rollers before 3,000 fans. Dean allowed but one hit and struck out one, but committed two of four Sioux Falls' errors and left the game with the count knotted 3 to 3. He went hitless in two times at bat.

The once great National League hurler left the Cubs July 6 for a radio announcing job in St. Louis.

It was not immediately learned whether he had signed up with the Western League club as a

25 Years Ago

JULY 14, 1916

British troops at dawn today broke into the German second line positions on a four-mile front north of the Somme and captured several strongly-defended localities. Heavy fighting continues. Press dispatches say the villages of Ovillers, Brézin-le-Petit, Brézin-le-Grand and Longueval and portions of the Trones Woods were taken by the British.

At St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church the marriage was celebrated of Lucy, daughter of Mr. F. Bardsley and Private A. J. Welsh of the Royal Canadian Regiment, second son of the late Sergeant Welsh, Royal Artillery, and Mrs. Welsh, 589 John Street. Rev. W. Baugh Allen officiated and attendants were Misses Gertrude and Doris Welsh and Private E. Culhane.

John Hart, who is running on the Liberal ticket in Victoria City, in the forthcoming election, has been named provincial campaign manager by H. C. Brewster, leader of the party.

R. F. Green, M.P., who went to England at the close of the session, has returned to his home in Victoria. He visited several of the Canadian military camps and hospitals overseas.

J. G. Anderson was promoted to the rank of captain after the fighting near Ypres last month. He is with the 5th Battalion.

Lance-Corporal D. L. Lamborn, 867 Colville Road, died in France from wounds. Capt. George Bellamy of the 5th Battalion was wounded near Ypres. Capt. J. L. L. Johnston, brother of Lukin Johnston, former Victoria newspaperman, died of wounds received in France.

A.R.P. ACTIVITIES

Oak Bay A.R.P. Wardens, Dist. 1B, under the command of W. R. Ridington, district warden, met in the Municipal Hall. E. Harwood spoke on the work of the St. John Ambulance Brigade and also emphasized the important work the wardens are doing.

O. A. Butters, deputy district warden, spoke on equipment that is required for the area, and promised to have it in the near future. Mr. Ridington introduced Mrs. Harwood, who is taking over Mrs. W. A. Thorn's position as lady superintendent of St. John Nursing Division. Mrs. Thorn, who is leaving for Toronto next week, was presented with a bouquet of flowers and a gift, as a token of appreciation from the wardens who attended the gas lectures given by her.

Staff Sergeant W. Johnson of the Provincial Police, will speak to the wardens July 16 at 8.

Will your Widow dress as well as your Wife?

Arrange monthly income for her now through Imperial Life

DECIDE now that you will not subject your wife to the shabbiness and poverty that many widows must suffer "when there is no insurance."

Decide now that your widow—if there should be one—will be able to hold up her head among other women, with unflinching gratitude for your loving thoughtfulness. Through Imperial Life, thousands of men have arranged for monthly income, payable to themselves upon their retirement, or to their widows should "the unexpected" happen.

The size of the monthly cheques can be wholly in keeping with your present income and the amount can be increased should your own income become greater.

Enjoy the peace of mind that will come when you know she is protected. Today you are probably insurable, tomorrow—who knows? See an Imperial Life representative at once.

E. M. B. WARREN

and crossed in convoy from London two months ago.

WORKED HERE

In Victoria Miss Warren has done a magnificent water color of the Parliament Buildings and also painted scenes in Beacon Hill Park, which she said was one of the finest parks in the world, and along the Oak Bay seashore.

As a young woman Miss Warren knew John Ruskin and when Sir E. T. Cook wrote "Homes and Haunts of John Ruskin," Miss Warren illustrated it. She also did the art work for "The Spell of French Canada," by F. O. Call, and "The Spell of Acadia." Her panels of the Canadian colors were started in 1917 and were only recently completed.

Of the war, Miss Warren has little to say. "They may destroy England's buildings and they may kill her people, but never will they break her spirit—no never," she said.

For the duration of the war Miss Warren is making her home

$100 a month as long as she lives

Twenty-six months after Mr. T. took out an Imperial Life Continuous Monthly Income Policy, he died following an automobile accident.

Ever since, every month, his widow has received an Imperial Life cheque for $100, plus amounts provided by excess interest dividends on the policy. As long as she lives, Mrs. T. will continue to receive these cheques.

NAVAL WEDDING—Lieutenant Eric Everley Garrett Boak, R.C.N., and his bride, the former Phyllis Roberta Jesse, caught by the Times cameraman as they were leaving St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church, Esquimalt, on Saturday afternoon after their marriage, fellow officers of the groom forming the guard of honor.

Social and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. H. Smallshaw, Raymond Road, have returned home after visiting in Vancouver.

Miss Daisy de Jong will leave early this week to visit her parents at Fort Garry, Man.

Mr. and Mrs. E. K. DeBeck, Somass Drive, have been spending the week-end in Vancouver with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Studdert Kennedy, Victoria, are making a short visit in Vancouver, guests at Sylvia Court.

Mrs. J. A. Payzant, McClure Street, left today for the mainland on her way to Halifax, N.S., on a visit to her brother-in-law, Mr. W. Payzant.

Mrs. M. Clayton and son, George, have taken up residence on the East Saanich Road in the home formerly owned by Mrs. K. Mead-Robins.

Mrs. G. A. Martin, Cobble Hill, is recuperating from her recent illness at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Martin, West Saanich Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Norton Upward (nee Wendy Wilkinson) have returned from their honeymoon at Qualicum Beach and taken up their residence at Ten Mile Point.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Knights, Calgary, Alta., accompanied by their daughter and son, Miss Pat Knights and Jack Knights, are visiting Mrs. Knights' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Harrison, East Saanich Road.

Mrs. R. Slater, who with her son and little daughter have been staying at Sidney, the guests of Mrs. Slater's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Boshier, returned to their home at Port Renfrew on Friday.

Mrs. Patrick Robertson and small son, Leslie, who have spent two weeks at Langford as the guests of Mrs. Robertson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Massey, Island Highway, returned on Friday night to their home at Port Renfrew.

In honor of the seventh birthday of Phillip Gilbert, a guest child from England, his cousin, Mrs. A. F. Bayles of Langford, entertained some young friends at a picnic at the Esquimalt Lagoon on Saturday afternoon. Swimming games and contests were enjoyed. Refreshments were served, with the iced birthday cake with seven pink candles having the place of honor. Guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bayles, Mervyn Brown, Dick Haycroft, Fan Carter, Richard and Phillip Gilbert, Raymond McTavish, Charlie Pimlott and Theodore Bayles.

Mrs. J. P. Holmes, Torquay Drive, was hostess at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Mrs. Edward Scott, formerly Lillian Geater. Several varieties of daisies were used throughout in decoration. On her arrival, Mrs. Scott was presented with a corsage bouquet of pink carnations and a gaily decorated hat box containing many lovely gifts. Games were played, the winners being Mrs. F. Strugnell, Mrs. D. Bryant and Mrs. J. Mulberry. Later supper was served from an ecran lace-covered table centred with an attractive arrangement of daisies. Invited guests included Mrs. C. Evans, Mrs. F. Strugnell, Mrs. A. Fidler, Mrs. J. Mulberry, Mrs. M. Anderson, Mrs. R. Robinson and Mrs. L. De Costa, Misses Gertrude Greaves, Edna Watkiss and Irene Edwards.

Mrs. I. Rickard of Carmel-by-the-Sea, formerly of Victoria, is spending a holiday here and is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Bassett, Fairfield Road.

Mrs. W. F. Proctor, Elford Street, has returned from Toronto, where she has been visiting for several months with her son, Mr. Donald Proctor. En route home Mrs. Proctor spent a few days in Vancouver.

Mrs. H. J. Dickson, Raynor Avenue, returned today from Vancouver, where she went to attend the marriage of her son, Mr. George Douglas Dickson, to Miss Frances Ruth Thomson, that took place there on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Milward Miller, their son, Milward, and daughter, Marilyn, of Midland, Texas, and Mrs. J. J. Burris and her daughter, Mary Ellen, of Refugio, Texas, have arrived from the south and are spending a week here as the guests of Mrs. I. G. Colbert and family, 1811 Belmont Avenue.

Miss P. Battle and Mrs. M. Morgan were joint hostesses at a shower held at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hickman, in honor of Miss Alice Burnfield, a popular July bride-elect. On entering the prettily decorated room the bride-to-be was presented with a corsage bouquet of gardenias. The gifts were concealed in a miniature house. Games were played during the evening, prizes being won by Mrs. D. Usher, Mrs. W. Fielding and Mrs. W. Woodley. Later a buffet supper was served from a table gaily decorated with pink and white streamers and tall pink tapers. The guests included: Mesdames Burnfield, Ball, Court, Fielding, Holtum, Morgan, Good, Roberts, Campbell, Alexander Jr., Alexander Sr., Milton, Greenwood, Davey, Shaw, Abbot, Hickman, Woodley, Murray, Prescott, Exton, Olds, Usher, Lefebvre, Anton, Lewis, Haynes, and the Misses Edith Good, Susie Good, Alice Lewis, Shirley Campbell, Doris Exton, Kay Battle, Violet Abbot, Dorothy Prescott, Merle Button, Lorraine Marson and Phyllis Battle.

IN PLYMOUTH BLITZ—Mrs. G. P. Clarke, former regent of the Mary Croft Esquimalt Chapter I.O.E., who left Victoria some years ago to make her home in England, is now serving with the W.R.N.S. and holds the rank of Leading Wren. She was in Plymouth while on Easter leave visiting her son, Sub-Lieut. George Clarke, R.N., during one of the frequent blitzes on this southern port and had some exciting experiences.

Mrs. T. McCown of Vancouver, formerly of Winnipeg, is visiting in Victoria, a guest at the Empress Hotel.

Lady Butler and her sister, Mrs. D. Magnay, and their families are spending the months of July and August at Qualicum.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Robertson and family of Qualicum Beach are visiting at Victoria and Sidney during the holidays.

Misses Mary and Anna Taylor returned to Victoria after spending their holidays with their mother, Mrs. Robert Taylor of Errington.

Mrs. Lael Edwards left on Sunday afternoon for the eastern fashion centres on a buying trip for the French Room of David Spencer Ltd.

Mrs. D. E. Williams of Kere-meos, accompanied by her daughter, Vera, is visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Harper, Island Highway.

Mr. Gregory Crawley has arrived from New London, New Hampshire, and is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Crawley, Seacroft Apartments, until the middle of next month.

Mrs. Donald Campbell left on Saturday night for Banff, where she will spend a few days before proceeding to Ottawa, to join her husband, Flying Officer J. D. D. Campbell, R.C.A.F.

Mrs. H. Nelson Lay, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. D. E. Campbell, Linden Avenue, for the last few months, left this afternoon for Ottawa, where she will join her husband, Commander H. Nelson Lay, R.C.N.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Pattullo, Seattle, have arrived in the city for their annual summer holiday and have taken Miss B. H. Bradshaw's house on Beach Drive. Mrs. B. Nicol, Portland, is expected this week to visit her brother and sister-in-law.

Of interest to their many friends is the announcement made in Claremont, Cal., of the engagement of Jean, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Mackay of Claremont, to Mr. Russell Allen Hicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hicks of Montreal and Victoria. The bride-elect attended Strathcona Lodge School at Shawinigan Lake, V.I., and later completed her education at University of California. Vancouver will be her home after her marriage in September.

A happy family reunion was climaxed at a dinner party at the Empress Hotel last evening when Mr. and Mrs. David Rowley of Vancouver, who have been spending the last few days with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hobbs, Cadboro Bay, were guests of honor. Others at the happy party were Mr. and Mrs. Rowley's four daughters, Mrs. Archie Riddell of Pasadena, Cal., Mrs. R. J. Roche of Scarborough, Ont., Mrs. Wm. Curran, Trail, B.C. and Mrs. Wm. McKenzie, together with two of their sons-in-law, Mr. Wm. Curran and Mr. Wm. MacKenzie, also three grandchildren, Joan and Doreen Curran of Trail, and Barbara Hobbs, and Mrs. Joseph Rowley of Nanaimo, a sister-in-law of Mr. Rowley. The family is all together for the first time in 21 years, the celebration being arranged in honor of Mr. Rowley's 70th birthday, and all of them have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hobbs since Thursday.

Hiring Out Dresses To Be Copied

LONDON—Hiring out dresses for copying is the latest scheme for bringing American dollars to Britain. It is the idea of Miss Raymond Rahvis, a leading London fashion designer, who has left for New York with 50 dress models and 40 coats, together with hats and other accessories, all autumn designs, for day and evening wear.

Miss Rahvis will exhibit her dresses in New York and charge American designers $100 entrance fee, which will enable them to copy one dress. Afterwards, she will take the dresses to Chicago, Hollywood, New Orleans and Kansas City.

This "Hire to Copy" scheme will be an ideal form of export for Britain, for it entails very little use of materials; it is, in effect, an export of British ideas.

The models emphasize the dropped shoulder, achieved with trimming placed down the sleeves yokes and insets of contrasting color. Collars have incrustations in the shape of labels and considerable attention has been given to embroidery. The tweed ensembles feature unusual contrasts like grey herring-bone for the skirt and brown herring-bone for the jacket.

Wear Stockings Of Liquid Silk

Hundreds of fashionable young Victoria women are now using "Silktona" Liquid Silk Stockings, which give the authentic appearance of sheersilk. It is easy to apply, eliminates ladders, lasts all day and is not affected by water. Silktona is non-greasy and is easily removed with soap and water. Obtainable at all Cunningham Drug Stores—24 applications for 25c. (Adv't.)

LAWRENCE—POWELL

Grace Irene Powell, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Powell, Princeton, was married in the lovely garden of the bridegroom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Martin, McGrath Road, Chilliwack, July 4. The bridegroom is Albert Grant Lawrence, eldest son of L. S. Walter H. Lawrence, Esquimalt, and Mrs. Lawrence, Princeton.

Rev. Evan Baker officiated and groom was supported by his uncle, Mr. Robert L. Martin. The bride wore dusky rose crepe with matching hat, white accessories, and carried pastel sweet peas and fern. She was attended by Miss Alyce Martin in maize corded crepe, carrying mauve sweet peas.

Following a honeymoon motor trip to coastal points, Mr. and Mrs. Powell will make their home at Princeton, B.C.

COMPTON—LUNDIE—BROWN

St. Ann's Rectory, Tzouhalem, was the scene of a quiet wedding on Friday evening when Rev. Father Lawzan united in marriage Agnes Mary, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Brown, Duncan, and Sgt. Anthony Ord Compton-Lundie, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Compton-Lundie, Duncan. The bride wore a frock of British tan silk, beige redingote, beige hat and accessories. Her corsage was of yellow carnations and white heather. She was attended by her sister, Kathleen, in a gown of turquoise blue, large leghorn-hat, with navy blue accessories, and corsage of pink roses and freesias. Mr. Gerald Brown, the groom's brother, was best man.

After the ceremony a small reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. Brown received in a gown of turquoise blue with black accessories and corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Compton-Lundie wore a grey and rose ensemble, with leghorn hat and corsage of pink and white carnations. Father Lawzan proposed the toast to the bride.

After a short honeymoon, the groom will leave to resume his military duties with the 1st Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment.

VALLANCE—WALKER

In St. Stephen's Church, Mount Newton, at 7.30 Saturday evening in presence of relatives, Rev. Warren N. Turner united in marriage Lillian Robina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. W. Walker, Brentwood Bay, and Glen, only son of Mr. and Mrs. George Vallance, 286 Hampton Road, Victoria.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a heavenly blue sheer redingote with white accessories and corsage bouquet of orchids and white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Vallance left by motor shortly after the ceremony for the mainland.

BURNS—VAN KLEECK

Two former Victorians were the principals in a quiet wedding in Halifax, N.S., on June 27, when Sub-Lieut. R. M. Burns, R.C.N.V.R., son of R. R. Burns, M.P.P., and Mrs. Burns of Trail, B.C., was united in marriage to Barbara Alice, daughter of Mrs. P. D. VanKleeck, and the late Dr. VanKleeck of Armstrong, B.C., by the Rev. Kerigan at St. Andrew's United Church in Halifax, June 27.

In private life Sub-Lieut. Burns is statistician with the provincial government, Department of Finance, in Victoria. He was a member of H.M.C.S. Royal Roads' first graduating class. He is a grandson of the late William Burns, one of the pioneer heads of the Department of Education in this province. Mrs. Burns was formerly with the provincial Welfare Department here.

The families were lifelong friends since Dr. VanKleeck arrived in Armstrong in 1900 to start the practice of medicine. R. R. Burns was then the druggist in that Okanagan centre.

Clubwomen's News

The knitting meeting of the Dr. O. W. Jones Chapter I.O.D.E. will be held at the home of Mrs. Fred Spencer, 685 Beach Drive, on Thursday at 2.

A 500 card party will be held in the Community Hall under the auspices of the Royal Oak Women's Institute, Thursday at 8. On Friday, July 18, an old-time dance will be held.

St. Paul's, Esquimalt, Little Helpers spent a happy afternoon recently when the members of this branch met on Fleming's Beach with their mothers and friends for a picnic. In the unavoidable absence of Mrs. Crane and Miss Frances Price, tea arrangements were carried out with the kind assistance of Mr. A. Crane, Donald Murray and John Maynard. Mrs. Devenish, Mrs. Jennings and Mrs. Elston were welcome guests. St. Paul's branch will meet again in September.

The T.V.A. Women's Auxiliary met at the club rooms Thursday, Mrs. W. H. Booth, the president, in the chair. A successful report was given of the recent silver tea and card party; proceeds go to the war work. Plans were made for the annual bazaar to be held in the fall. Mr. Douglas, of the North Saanich Branch of the Legion, was a visitor, extended a hearty invitation to a country fair to be held at the Experimental Farm on August 13. Several pairs of socks and sea boots were turned in by the members for the merchant service.

The 14th annual basket picnic of the Tisdale Association was held at the Willows Beach, Oak Bay. About 65 former residents of Tisdale and surrounding districts spent an enjoyable afternoon and evening talking over old times, swimming and playing softball, etc. Supper was served about 6 under the convenship of Mrs. J. Dempsey, assisted by Mrs. P. Wrigley and Mrs. W. Buxton. A short business meeting was held to elect a new executive as follows: Mr. Malison, president; Mrs. W. Willner, secretary; lunch committee, Mrs. C. Argal, convener; Mrs. H. Henderson and Mrs. Serner; sport committee, Mr. E. Fullerton and Mr. H. Anderson and Mr. W. Willner. Among the out-of-town visitors were Miss Grace Henderson, Moose Jaw; Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor, Regina; Brian Bon Bernard, Saskatoon; Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Thompson and daughter, Mr. S. King, Mr. and Mrs. G. Henderson, Ridgedale; Miss Jessie Griffe, Tisdale; Mrs. Howarth and Ray Vancouver.

Esquimalt W.I. met recently for the regular monthly meeting in the Parish Hall. Mrs. A. Mossop presided. A resolution from the Health League of Canada was fully endorsed. An invitation from Shawinigan Lake W.I. to attend a garden party in aid of the Lord Mayor's Fund was laid over pending arrangements for transportation. Report on the picnic held July 4 at Willows Beach was given by Mrs. N. Kelly. Thirty-eight members and their families sat down to lunch and supper. The annual tea and sale of work was held Thursday afternoon in the Parish Hall, Mrs. G. Wise, general convener, and Mrs. A. Mossop, president, welcoming the guests. The two tables were very attractive with small vases of flowers in the institute colors of white, green and gold, the hall being decorated with large vases of flowers in the same colors. Tea was served under the convenship of Mrs. A. Bradley, assisted in serving by Mrs. E. Read and Mrs. J. Drummond; Mrs. Mallows gave teaup readings. Plain sewing, Mrs. E. Hibbert; home cooking, Mrs. M. McDuff and Mrs. M. Nicol; novelties, Mrs. K. Saddler; bingo, Mrs. C. Allen. Articles for Red Cross and bundles for Britain were on display. An Afghan which has just been completed was played in the evening, convened by Mrs. N. Kelly. Those receiving prizes were: Ladies' first, Mrs. J. McLean, Mrs. I. Roger and Mrs. E. Vincent; gentlemen's first, Mr. T. Cornwell, Mr. J. Drummond and Mr. McDonald. Mrs. Kelly was in charge of the contests.

Even Pins Rationed

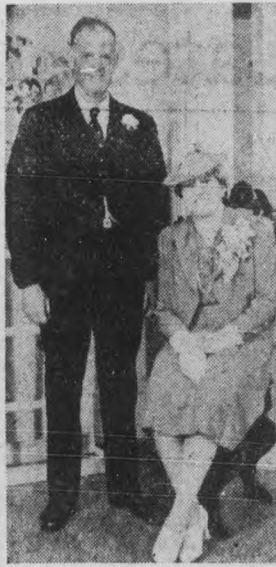

Before the war the women of Britain were squandering pins at the rate of 3,550,000,000 a year. Now they face a pin famine.

For the pin manufacturers, with limited supplies of raw materials and increased demands from the government for such state departments as the Stationery Office, and administrative departments, has also to push its exports.

In 1940 Eve, used to wasting pins, had to curb her extravagance and keep herself together with a mere 2,500,000,000 of them.

The result is a real pin famine. While Adam is finding to his consternation that razor blades, once thick as leaves in Vallambrosa, are almost as rare as the onion, Eve is searching in vain for what, a year ago, was handed across the counter to her in place of the draper's farthing—a packet of pins.

The value of this trade to Britain is considerable. In 1940, despite blitz conditions, the makers shipped $165,000 worth of them overseas.

To Hold Fete at Lady Barnard's

The Mary Croft Esquimalt Chapter, I.O.D.E., will hold its annual garden party in the grounds of "Clovelly," the beautiful home of Lady Barnard, on Sea Terrace, Esquimalt, on Wednesday. The fete will be opened by Mrs. R. O. Alexander, wife of the general officer commanding-in-chief, Pacific Command.

During the afternoon the band of the 5th B.C. Coast Brigade will play. There will be stalls of home cooking in charge of Mrs. G. Sedger and Mrs. S. Youlender; candy, Mrs. T. C. Sherwood (Esquimalt Brownies); house-keeping, Mrs. J. Quinn; ice cream, Mrs. W. E. Akenhead; Mrs. W. Booth and Mrs. H. Allen, contests; Mrs. S. Angwin, Mrs. Rogers and Miss Mayhew, fortunes; Mrs. A. E. Harris and Mrs. E. Cross, in receipt of custom. Mrs. C. T. Beard, regent, and Mrs. E. W. Mackenzie-Grieve will be on the reception committee; and Mrs. C. Bishop will be the convener of the tea.

Lodge Princess Alexandra, Daughters of England, will meet on Thursday at 8; installation of district deputy will take place.

Women Golfers Send $1,113 for Spitfire

Women golfers of Vancouver Island have responded generously to the Spitfire fund inaugurated by the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union, and as a result a cheque for $1,113.50 has been sent to the headquarters in Toronto.

The contributions made by the members of the various clubs follows: Ardmore Golf Club $123.75, Cowichan Golf Club $26.50, Gorge Vale Golf Club $64.75, Royal Colwood Golf Club $150.50, Uplands Golf Club $281, Victoria Golf Club $467.

Throughout the Dominion there are 22,000 women golfers affiliated with the C.L.G.U., and assessment was made of $2 per head. As many members made larger donations, it is anticipated that the $50,000 required for the purchase of a Spitfire will be easily attained.

Plan Tag Day to Aid Silver Trail Fund

The executive of the Women's Auxiliary to the Air Services met on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. Armstrong, when plans were made to carry on the silver trail in the form of an "Air Force Blue" day, July 26. The slogan for the day will be "Rally round the Roundel." Roundels, the insignia of the British Air Force, will be placed on the sidewalks for contributions, and Roundel tags issued. Money received will be used to aid air services overseas. Mrs. H. Blenkinsop is in charge of the captains.

More Meet Death By Motor Cars

OTTAWA (CP)—Preliminary figures indicate a "marked increase" in deaths in motor vehicle accidents during 1940, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports.

"The number of deaths and the death rate were the highest recorded during the period 1926-40, for which figures for all provinces of Canada have been compiled by the bureau," the report says.

The bureau estimates there were 1,709 deaths attributable to motor vehicle accidents in 1940 compared with 1,583 in 1939. The death rate was 15 per 100,000 population compared with 14 the previous year and 13.8 in 1938.

Motor vehicle accident deaths by provinces, with 1939 figures in brackets: Prince Edward Island, 10 (7); Nova Scotia, 104 (84); New Brunswick, 81 (92); Quebec, 434 (390); Ontario, 746 (682); Manitoba, 87 (63); Saskatchewan, 59 (65); Alberta, 72 (81); British Columbia, 116 (120).

Preliminary figures show deaths from external violence during 1940 numbered 7,368 against 7,173 in 1939, and 7,205 in 1938. Death rate per 100,000 population was 65, and for the previous year 63.

Highest death rate recorded since 1926 was 73 in 1930, the bureau says.

Windsor Auto Court Latest in Tourist Accommodation

'Credit to City' Visitors Saying

"It's a credit to the city!" is the enthusiastic way visitors to the new Windsor Motor Court, which opened its doors for business over the week-end, describe the miniature village of duplex bungalows. It is without question one of the finest auto camps on the continent.

Built by R. S. Olson, who saw the need for further tourist accommodation near the city, the Windsor sets in a lovely secluded section of property at Gorge Road and Washington Avenue which once formed a part of two of Victoria's pioneer estates, the Savory and Mitchell estates.

The court was named after England's most famous royal residence, Windsor.

Designed by Hubert Savage, A.R.I.B.A., architect, the court consists of an administration building, which faces Gorge Road, and 13 duplex bungalows of two different types.

Eight of the bungalows each contain two separate suites, which comprise a large bedroom with closet, a large living-room with open fireplace and bed closet, a kitchen and dinette, a bathroom with tub bath and shower and a garage with overhead door.

The five remaining bungalows are smaller. They also consist of two separate suites. Each suite consists of a living-room with bed closet, a bedroom with closet, a kitchen and dinette and a bathroom. These bungalows are so arranged as to accommodate either one large group or two small separate groups of guests.

The entrance to the court is on Gorge Road. The approach to the circular driveway around the court, through two gateways built in the ivy-clad stone wall surrounding the five-acre property, gives access across a terrace to the administration building.

OLD WORLD EXTERIOR

This central building presents an old world exterior with its twin Dickens' bow windows flanking the entrance doorway. On the main floor is a large public office and lounge with knotty pine-paneled walls; a manager's office and living quarters, and a provisions store. In the basement is a fully-equipped modern laundry, drying room and automatic coal-fired heating apparatus.

The heating apparatus furnishes all the bungalows of the court with radiator heat and hot water.

The bungalows are directly behind the administration building in three rows. The buildings are spaced to obtain a maximum amount of light, air and view. Wide roadways separate the rows of bungalows.

All suites are finished in a modern and artistic manner throughout. The plaster walls and ceilings are finished in varying tints and textures. Part of the living-room walls are paneled with pine. The living-rooms also have wall-to-wall carpets. The kitchens and bathrooms have inlaid linoleum on the floors.

FULLY FURNISHED

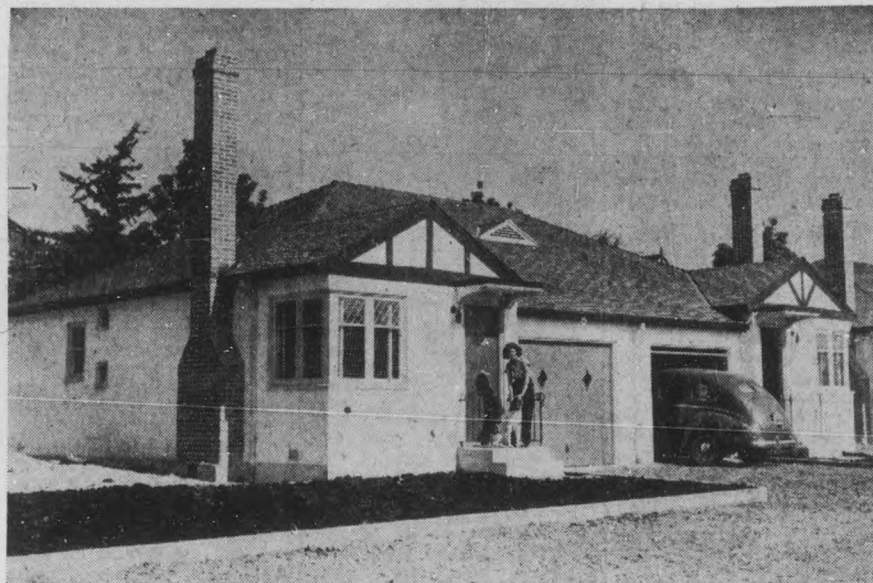

The suites are fully furnished. Each kitchen is fitted with a modern sink, cupboards, cooler, automatic gas cooking range and electric refrigerator. A radio is provided in each suite. The windows are fitted with venetian blinds. The beds have spring mattresses. In fact, each suite combines the convenience of a first-class hotel and the last word in auto camp accommodation.

A feature of the court is the fact that the suites are sound-proof.

The exterior of the bungalows are finished in white stucco with half timbered gables. The roofs are green staggered shingles and there are diamond zinc lights in the upper part of all windows.

In planning the court, full advantage was taken of the natural contours and the trees of the property. A little park has been formed in one corner. Grass boulevards with shrubs and flowers will be planted in front of all the bungalows.

Modern Bungalows

There are 13 duplex bungalows in the court, each containing two suites. All suites are furnished completely with the latest conveniences which include radio, electric refrigerator, gas cooking range, spring beds and tub baths. Every convenience or comfort looked for in the most modern city apartment is provided in the Windsor Auto Court.

Returned Here To Build Court

It was in 1929 that R.S. Olson, known all over the Northwest as "Speed," left Victoria for Nelson where he started what was soon to become a great enterprise in modern transportation. In 1930 Mr. Olson moved his headquarters to Calgary and from there operated the famous Greyhound Lines throughout Alberta and British Columbia, later branching out to cover Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Mr. Olson was the pioneer in the west of modern bus service as it is known today and eventually his great fleet of streamlined busses covered no less than 7,000,000 miles a year.

In 1940 Olson sold out to the American Greyhound Corporation and did what was the most natural thing in the world, returned to the Pacific Coast, looking for new worlds to conquer. Having been so intimately connected with the tourist and travel public his thoughts naturally ran along these lines and seeing the great future possibilities in catering to the tourists he determined to build a motor court that would be second to none in the country. How well he has succeeded will be left to the public's judgment.

R. S. OLSON

when they go out to Windsor Motor Court on the Gorge Road any day this week when Mr. Olson and his manager M. D. Cahoon will act as hosts to the public.

Mr. Cahoon is a man with a vast hotel experience and knows what the traveling public wants and does not want and Mr. Olson knows that he will be well able to carry out the high-service ideals that he has set for the Windsor.

Mr. Olson emphasizes that the Windsor is no ordinary motor court and feels that the Victoria public must see its de luxe suites to fully realize just what is available now in the matter of accommodation for Victoria's visitors as well as for permanent guests who want the latest in modern comfort, convenience and accessibility.

PROVISION MADE FOR ADDITIONS

In the planning and construction of the Windsor Auto Court provision has been made for an increase in accommodation.

The property of the court comprises about five acres; has a frontage of 520 feet on Gorge Road from Washington Avenue east, and an average depth of 650 feet.

The bungalows of the court, 13 at present, have been constructed in three parallel rows extending in a northerly direction on the property with two wide roadways between each and a loop at the north end.

Several more bungalows can be built in the northern section. The buildings are central heated from a plant in the main building at the front of the court. All plumbing is connected with the sewer, and city water and light is provided throughout.

WORK RUSHED ON MALAHAT

Workmen on reconstruction of the Malahat Highway at Mile 20 went on an overtime basis today so that the road can be reopened to traffic as soon as possible, the Public Works Department said.

This follows the government's decision to delay the major project and get the road in service by July 26 to meet the wishes of transportation and tourist interests who protested against closing the highway at the height of the tourist season.

It is hoped to get the road opened before July 26, but there is lack of expert machine men, making it impossible to work crews a full two shifts, the department said. A new quarter-mile section will be completed at a point where the old road was virtually destroyed.

The road project will be resumed in September after the tourist rush.

Works engineers explained that the hot summer weather was the best time for doing roadwork of this kind, but that a fair break in the weather in September might not hinder it too much.

Reorganizing Syria

NEW YORK (AP)—The Free French radio at Brazzaville reported Gen. Charles de Gaulle would sign a treaty with the Syrians in the near future under which they would "have the liberty of forming themselves into a single state or separate states, as they may choose." The broadcast was received here by CBS.

Attractive Store Building

The attractive administration building of the auto court faces Gorge Road. Light provisions can be purchased here and there also is a large public office and lounge and the manager's office and living quarters. In the basement of the building is a fully-equipped laundry, drying-room and an automatic coal-fired central heating plant.

Victoria Firms Did Fine Work

Co-operation of Victoria firms in the construction of the Windsor Motor Court and the earnest efforts of the workmen were highly pleasing to R. S. Olson, of this newest tourist service, when interviewed. "I took care to use Victoria firms and British Columbia products in every possible detail of construction," said Mr. Olson, "and I certainly got my money's worth."

Maple furniture of the "Imperial Loyalist" design was one item specified because of its native origin when selecting furniture for the rooms of the bungalows. Another stipulation was the roofing, where British Columbia shingles won out against many competitors in this product.

Practically every item of house furnishings was supplied by the Hudson's Bay Company from the Victoria store. Venetian blinds, drapes and bedding came from their stock.

Credit for the modern kitchens of these bungalows, including electrical equipment and refrigerators, gas ranges and kitchen utensils goes to the local firm of McLennan, McFeely and Prior Limited, who equipped them. Electrical wiring in this connection and throughout the buildings was done by E. H. Emery.

Everything for the modern laundry of the motor court was supplied by Western Agencies Limited, who installed washers and wringers, and a modern drying room in the administrative building. Other electrical fixtures in this building and throughout the bungalows was selected from the stocks of the Hickman Tye Hardware Company Limited.

General contractors for the work, which was completed strictly according to schedule and specifications, were Williams, Terise and Williams Limited, while all the plastering inside and all the outside stucco work was done by Ross and Flamank. Canada Paint and Paper Company products were used exclusively throughout, and the landscaping work was put into the hands of the Prospect Lake Nurseries.

'Tragic Mistake'

NEW YORK (AP)—Col. William Donovan, newly-named Co-ordinator of defence information, told the people of France and her tor of Defence Information, told today that "we are confident in the ultimate victory over that man who has devastated your land and who seeks to keep you in subjection."

Broadcasting in French, Col. Donovan told the French people the United States "made a tragic mistake in withdrawing from the victory in 1919."

"We shall not make that mistake again," he said. "We see the war was only interrupted. It has not ended. Today we are assisting those who fight Hitler. It is true we have been slow in awakening to the common peril. But our support of the Common cause is neither too little nor too late."

Boom in Australia

CANBERRA (AP)—Newly-built strategic all-weather roads across Australia are causing an unexpected boom in small inland centres, it was reported today by Rev. T. C. Rentoul, director of Methodist inland missions.

Allice Springs, present terminus of the railroad, is located 950 miles north of Adelaide and this centre is experiencing a large influx of road workers.

Five C's Defeat Army Cricketers

Five C's defeated the Garrison at Beacon Hill on Saturday, 86 to 28, in a league cricket match. The difference in score was accounted for by some excellent Army bowling, but weak batting. The whole Army team was bowled out in less than an hour, by the churchmen.

The winners went to bat first, scoring 60 runs at the fall of the third wicket. From then on they found the going tougher, and added only 28 more. Noel Smith did a good job of bowling for the military, getting six wickets for 27 runs.

When the Garrison team came to bat it found the pace tougher than even the Five C's. Not one of its batsmen reached double figures, Sergt. Walton being top man with 9. The score represented the lowest the army has managed this year.

New Starch Factory For Fraser Valley

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Fraser Valley potato growers' associations have named several committees to work on plans for a projected starch and glucose factory to be constructed near here.

The factory would cost from $40,000 to $45,000 and would have a capacity of 60 tons of potatoes daily, from which would be recovered 10 tons of starch or glucose. It is planned to use cull potatoes for which there now is no market.

Potato growers gave strong support to the proposed new industry at a meeting here during the week-end.

GETS LETTER FROM "FOSTER-MOTHER" — Little Tommy Maloney, aged 3½, has received a letter he is too young to read. It was from Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who has "adopted him" by contributing to his support. Tommy and his sister Mary are in the J. B. Priestly Nursery Centre, somewhere in England, under the supervision of the British author's wife. Before going there, Tommy, son of a stoker who has been called for military service, slept in subway shelters, on station platforms and on odd corners. His mother is in London.

Pitted against Nazi subs in the North Atlantic now, is the strength of the U.S. Navy as President Roosevelt orders the navy to keep communications with the strategic island of Iceland open. Monster ships like the U.S. battleship Mississippi, shown (left), with a U.S. flag in the foreground, are ready to meet any Nazi sea-borne invasion threat. A Canadian force was sent to occupy Iceland as a protective measure shortly after the Nazi conquest of Denmark. With the exception of one unit, this detachment was replaced by English troops last spring. A few weeks ago the last Canadian unit was removed. This picture (right), shows Canadian soldiers in Iceland.

CANADIAN GIRL COMMENDED IN MILITARY ORDERS—A Canadian girl was commended in military orders of the South England area recently, for courage and resourcefulness when the Cafe de Paris was bombed in London last March 8. She is Marjorie Price of Montreal, shown with her father, Major-Gen. C. B. Price, commander of the Canadian Third Division. The orders said: "Volunteer Price by coolness and efficient directions, quietened the hysterical and nerved others to redouble their exertions. Her services were of the highest order and her courage and resourcefulness most praiseworthy." She went to England to drive an ambulance at Aldershot as a member of the 2nd Hants Company of the A.T.S. Four members of the Canadian army were killed in the cafe.

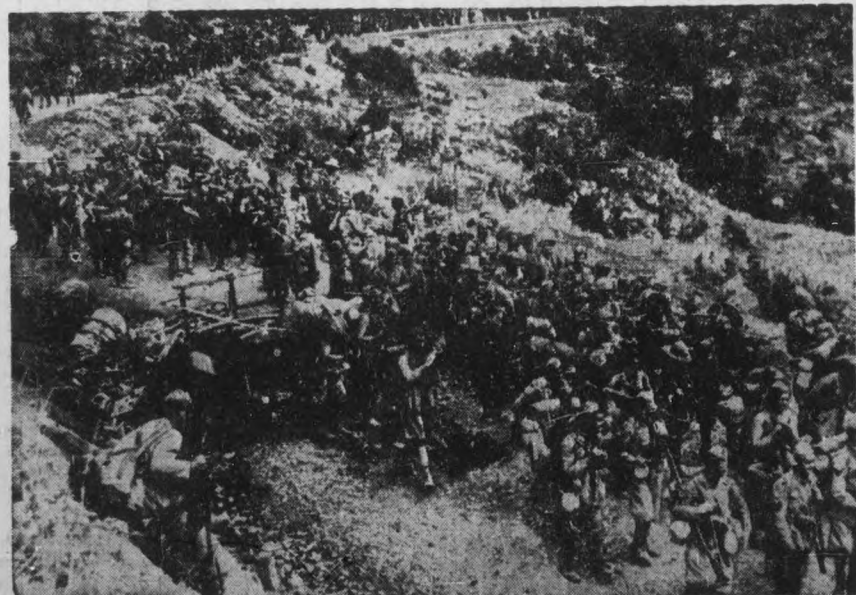

CANADIANS ASSIST IN GREAT AIR OFFENSIVE—In tonnage, Britain dropped more bombs on the Nazis in June than Germany dropped on Britain in April, which was the heaviest month of bombing Britain has yet suffered from the Luftwaffe. Taking part in the terrific air offensive against Germany are many Canadians like Pilot Officer John McCormick, Toronto, left, and Pilot Officer Gordon Elliott of Montreal, shown here before Nelson's monument in Trafalgar Square, while on leave in London. The pair met at No. 2 Manning Depot, Brandon, Man., and are now attached to a long-range bomber squadron in England.

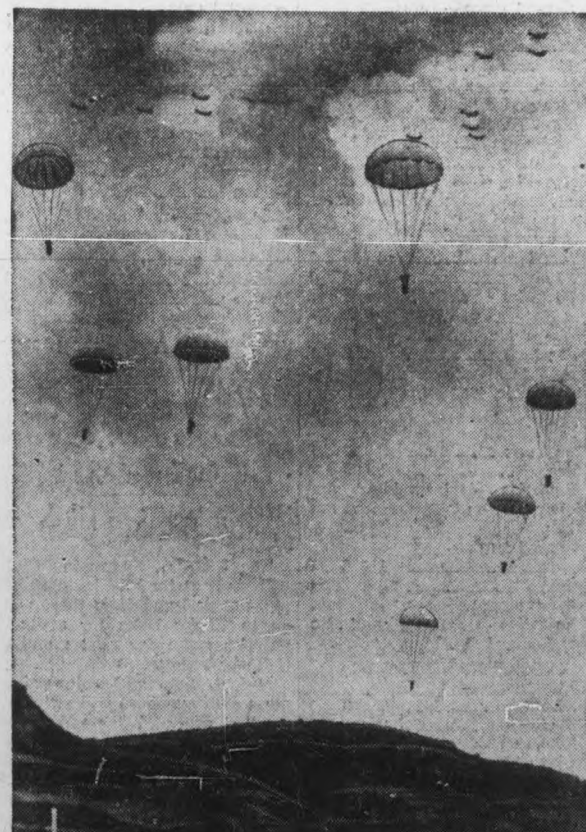

DEATH-DEALING RAIDS BY ROBOT PLANES FORSEEN—Some day, soon perhaps, planes without pilots may speed out on raids over enemy territory, drop their death-dealing loads and return if they're lucky. And even if they're not lucky, all that will be lost will be the plane—no lives. That's the possibility inherent in this radio-controlled model airplane, beside which kneels the new U.S. national champion, Jim Walker, 37, of Portland. Beside him are the trophies he has won.

BRITISH TANKS TESTED ON BLITZED HOUSES—It's just a pushover now, but it once was a home. Monster British tanks like this one, which will help end the Nazi threat to the world, are tested on blitzed English houses, finishing the work the bombs began. Other homes must be found for the civilian population, who have put up such terrific moral resistance to the Nazi air attacks.

ACCORDED HONORABLE SURRENDER—Music-loving Italians indulge in homesick ballads as they march meditatively down the road after surrendering to the British in the battle for Amba Alagi, the last Italian stronghold in Eritrea. Many in the long lines of penitent prisoners wonder why they ever listened to the invasion dreams of Mussolini, now a nightmare for them.

JAPAN USES PARACHUTES, TOO—FOR FOOD—Although these are parachutes dropping from the sky, the dangling objects are not men, but bundles of food, provisions and daily necessities for first-line Japanese troops operating in the mountain regions along the north China front. Note the air transports, top.

OLD ARMY MULE AGAIN HAS HIS DAY — Men and mules of the 98th Field Artillery, only mule pack outfit taking part in the 9th Army Corps manoeuvres at Hunter Liggett Military Reservation, California, head for hills to set up their 75 m.m. guns. The weapons are disassembled into six parts for packing into regions too rugged for ordinary motorized or horse artillery.

SOLOS AFTER SEVEN HOURS' INSTRUCTIONS—Two weeks after his first plane flight, 24-year-old William Hume of Scotland, became the first British air cadet to solo in the United States. The former traveling salesman made his solo hop after seven hours of instruction at the Lakeland School of Aeronautics, Florida. As he leaps from the cockpit of his Stearman trainer he is congratulated by Flight-Lieut. W. W. Watson of the R.A.F. He is one of hundreds of British cadets training side by side with U.S. fledglings.

NOW it's going to be summer soccer. Reports from Vancouver tell of the organization of a summer league to play matches under the lights. In other words soccer, a truly winter sport, will attempt to crash the summer calendar of athletic activities. As if the soccer clubs and players didn't have a long enough season. We can remember covering soccer games from the first week in October until early in June.

Last season the local soccer bosses wised up to themselves and closed the season down near the end of April. Such action was appreciated by the players who were ready for a short rest before starting their summer sports. Excuse given by the mainland clubs for inaugurating summer play is the poor gates and schedule interruptions caused by the bad weather in the winter. What a weak argument. How about the teams in Britain that complete their schedules under climatic conditions a great deal worse than those experienced in the Pacific Northwest?

It looks like racial extraction has nothing to do with whether or not a boy becomes a top-ranking jockey. Take the lads riding in the current meeting at Hollywood Park, California, for instance. It is a melting pot. The roll call reads like this:

Jose Martini, Mexican, was born in Tijuana. Tim Sena is a Mexican senior from Colorado. Cuba is represented by Eugenio Rodriguez, Armando Fernin and Mario Quintero. Johnny Longden was born in England and is a naturalized Canadian. R. Robinson is English.

Johnny Battista, Wayne Nassi and Nunzio Pariso are Italians. Ray Nelson is a Norwegian. Bonny Scotland pops up with Bobby McRoberts and Marlow Fife.

Lester Balaski is Polish, Francis Maschek is Hungarian and Ted Malear is French. Georgie Woolf, Otto Grohs, Ferrill Zufelt and Charlie Schultz are of German extraction.

Next addition to the melting pot will be Akira Iwamoto, a little Japanese boy born in Santa Monica. He is 18 and weighs 103 and has been galloping horses for Jimmy Wallace a year and will make his debut in the spring. Wallace trains the Ventura and Loyola stables, owned by Japanese potato barons. They cornered the spud market and put some of the profits into thoroughbreds. Wallace says they race for the sport of it, wager very modestly and never beef when they blow a bet.

Iwamoto is related to the potato tycoons and it was their idea he become a jockey. The boy had never been on a horse when he reported to Wallace, but he learned quickly. Says Wallace: "This kid might make a good rider. For one thing, he is without emotion, never gets excited—almost a stoic. His temperament is such that he will follow instructions to the letter and never lose his head in the heat of a race. He will not be handicapped by the common failing of many young riders—forgetting or failing to do what you tell them."

fighting to get back the lead again from Vantreight. McMurry won the helmet dash of three laps with Walling in second and Vantreight in third.

McMurry won the five-lap first heat race over Vantreight, Walling and Spaulding. The local boy, Vantreight, finished second this time and Spaulding was third with Walling in fourth.

Buddy Green, Victoria, won the second heat race. Small was second and Bob Brenton, Seattle, third.

McMurry beat Vantreight by a whisker in a three-lap match race. Walling won the third heat race over Brenton and Bob Carson, Seattle, who drove the local No. 2 car.

Spaulding won the fourth heat with Don Vantreight second and Corkey Thomas third.

Kenny Dodsworth won a stock car event in a field of seven cars.

Fishing Derby Winners

G. CARTWRIGHT
First

"The most successful opening competition in the history of the association." That was the general opinion of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association after the close of their initial angling event at Saanich Arm yesterday. The weather was perfect, fishing was excellent and the entry was large.

First prize went to G. Cartwright, a veteran rod artist, with a spring salmon weighing 25 pounds 7 ounces. Weighed in at 8.30 in the morning Cartwright's catch withstood the challenge of the city's finest anglers. Cartwright was presented with the beautiful three-piece chesterfield suite for his feat. Max Bloomfield landed a 22 pounder to take the second prize, a cabinet radio.

Other prize winners along with their catches follow: 3, G. Simpson, 21 pounds 5 ounces, vacuum cleaner; 4, D. Thomas, 20 pounds 13 ounces, rod, reel and wire line; 5, F. Willey, 20 pounds 9 ounces, reel and wire line; 6, W. J. Robinson, 19 pounds 14 ounces, camera

Miller, 17 pounds 1 ounce, rose bowl; 17,

E. Todd, 17 pounds, casserole; 18, W. Mowbray, 16 pounds 15 ounces, wire line. C. Richards was the winner of the first consolation prize of a picnic basket while Lloyd Jones took the second consolation award of a mantle clock. Prizes were presented to the lucky fishermen by George I. Warren at the Anchorage. Practically every boat that took part in the competition returned with fish and it was a merry throng that gathered at the close for the prize giving.

Midget, junior and senior swimming club members will swim in the "Y" pool at 7.30 on Wednesday evening. After the dip, certificates from the last B.C. gala and ribbons won at last month's club championships will be presented.

Staretor Cops $25,000 Derby

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Staretor strengthened his claim as one of the outstanding three-year-olds Saturday by whipping seven rivals in the fourth running of the $25,000 Hollywood Derby. The Delaware-bred colt, owned by Hugh S. Nesbitt of Los Angeles, flashed across the finish line three-quarters of a length in front of his archrival, C. S. Howard's Porter's Cap, before the crowd of 32,000 which had installed him as a 6 to 5 favorite. Harry L. Warner's Paper Boy ran third.

The son of Messenger, runner-up to Whirlaway in the Kentucky Derby, gave his backers a chill as jockey George Woolf held him off the sizzling pace set by the filly, Mrs. Vera A. Bragg's Transient.

Confident of victory over the Howard colt and holding a seven-pound pull in weights, Woolf brought the Nesbitt colt up on the outside as the field came into the stretch, and came on to win decisively.

Staretor defeated Porter's Cap in a tight finish a week ago, but was disqualified for bearing over on the Howard colt. He removed all doubt as to his superiority Saturday. The win was worth $19,675 to his owner. Porter's Cap won $5,000 second money, Paper Boy $2,500 for third and Battle Colors $1,250 for fourth. Staretor ran the 1 1/4 miles in 2:03 1/5. He paid $4.40, $2.80 and $2.40; Porter's Cap $3.40 and $3.20, and Paper Boy $4.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Cooke of New York upset Helen Hull Jacobs, United States' top-ranking amateur, 6-3, and 6-2, to win the middle state's women's tennis championship yesterday.

Vancouver Wins Two Ball Games

Left-handed fence busters. That would be an appropriate name for the North Vancouver Shipyard's baseball club. Playing here Saturday and boasting seven players who hit from the portside the members of the Vancouver Burrard League whipped the Victoria All-Stars 13 to 1 and 7 to 5 in 10 innings.

In the afternoon exhibition the visitors collected 20 hits, including eight for extra bases. They opened the game by taking to Tommy Musgrave's offerings like ducks to a pond and after getting to him for eight hits and five runs he was yanked in the second inning. Russ Richardson, who took up the mound duties for Victoria, was also treated like a long-lost brother and lasted until the sixth when Lorne Murray took over and held the invaders scoreless. Richardson was touched up for eight hits and a like number of runs. Murray allowed four hits southpaw Jack McIntyre but the only one that counted was Ray Casey's home run over the centre field fence.

The evening game saw the local players make a game attempt to win only to lose in the first extra inning. After being down 5 to 1 going to bat in the sixth Victoria scored a pair of runs in that inning on Jack Stratton's single, added another in the seventh and tied it up in the ninth.

But Victoria was forced to yank Stan Davies, starting pitcher, for a pinch hitter in the ninth and Musgrave who replaced him got into trouble in the 10th and a pair of doubles and a single gave Vancouver two runs, enough to win the game.

Davies allowed North Vancouver 10 hits and struck out a pair. D. Kendrick, pitching for the visitors, gave up 11 hits and fanned four.

Kennedy, visiting left fielder, led the stickers in the afternoon game with four for five while Noel Morgan, Victoria first baseman, was the big hitter in the evening with three for three, including a double.

Beats Nelson On Second Extra Hole

CHERRY HILLS, Denver (AP)—Big Vic Ghezzi made a long-cherished golf dream come true yesterday by beating defending champion Byron Nelson for the 24th United States Professional Golfers' Association title in a suspense-packed 38-hole battle and one of the most bizarre finishes in the history of the tournament.

For Nelson, stoical Texan from Toledo, O., it was his second "extra-innings" defeat in the P.G.A. final in three years.

He lost to Henry Picard in a 37-hole fray in 1939 by missing a six-foot putt before conquering Sam Snead in last year's title-deciding tussle.

The end of a long day of dramatic battling between the two 29-year-old veterans was written with wavering putters on the green of the 400-yard second extra hole, perched on the lake's edge at rolling Cherry Hills.

Both players, tiring visibly, missed the green with their iron seconds, but both chipped to within 30 inches of the flag. They were so close they flipped a coin to decide which would putt first.

WINS AND LOSSES

Nelson won and tapped the ball. It slid past the cup by a hair. Ghezzi, Deal, N.J., campaigner, then slapped blade against ball and for a second it looked as though he, too, had missed, but the ball slithered in from the side for the all-important par 4.

This meant not only the first major championship for Ghezzi but also an extra $500, the difference between $1,000 first money and $600 for the runner-up.

The champion has been competing in this match play classic since 1932 but never before went past the third round.

Ghezzi beat the dethroned champion at his own game—fighting from behind. Nelson had overcome his opponent's lead in every previous match but this was one foe he couldn't shake, even though Ghezzi was three holes behind as they entered the 28th hole.

In Saturday's pair of semifinals Nelson turned back veteran little Gene Sarazen of Connecticut 2 and 1 in a par-breaking match, while Ghezzi outclassed Lloyd Mangrum of Monterey Park, Cal., to win 1 up after being 4 up at the 24th hole.

While playing over the Quailcum Beach Hotel golf links recently, Capt. C. McL. Fry of Port Alberni scored a hole in one on the 145-yard seventh hole. He was playing with Art Thompson, H. G. Weaver, Ken Weaver and Henry Winter, all of Port Alberni.

Troops Leave For Debert

Soldiers on leave from Debert military camp, home in Victoria since Friday morning, said goodbye to friends and relatives today and started the long trip back to the Nova Scotia army town by boat and troop train.

Hundreds of relatives, sweethearts and friends gathered at the wharf to see the men off, with chins up but hearts heavy in the knowledge that this leave might be the last the members of the 1st Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment, and the Petrol Company of the R.C.A.S.C. could spend at home.

Just as the happy homecoming of the troops on Friday was the final scene in a drama of welcomes across the Dominion, today's departure was the first of a score of similar partings that will take place as a special troop train puffs slowly back to Nova Scotia.

While in Victoria, the troops fitted a crowded schedule into their few days of freedom. Some visited as many friends as possible. Others, favored by fine weather, were anxious to swim or golf.

The Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Scottish opened the Scottish gift house on Despard Avenue to the troops on Saturday afternoon.

Brown and fit from their days in the eastern sun, the men were pleased with Victoria's summer. They said they had found Nova Scotia's climate rigorous.

From those who remained at Debert, the troops on leave brought word of general good health, contentment and well-being.

"The camp is swell," was the usual comment. "It's just like a town in itself, with regular streets laid out among the buildings, its own movies and almost everything you would expect to find in a town."

Debert would be perfect if the troops were not so keen on getting overseas. Pte. J. W. Gurney said while here. Pte. Gurney explained that eagerness to reach England and the fighting zone made routine in Canada seem dull by comparison. Otherwise, he said, the troops were well satisfied with their great military camp in eastern Canada with its unending activity and its many provisions for entertainment. He termed Debert a city of soldiers, so active that even daily routine was made interesting.

Over the Top

With Canada's two-month army recruiting campaign over the 32,000 objective, Ottawa is now compiling the official total for release.

Headquarters of M.D. 11 said no totals were available yet for British Columbia.

City police have been asked to locate Mrs. Neva Gordon reported to be living here. Inspector J. H. Rogers has some information to give the woman if she will call at the station.

'The Blue Wasp' Wrecks Plant

Saanich police are looking for "The Blue Wasp," a running shoe saoteur who broke and entered the Safeway Cleaners, 3390 Douglas Street, Saturday night and destroyed machinery and other equipment in what appeared to be an attempt to put the plant out of business.

In the above picture, Constable Bert Pearson of the Saanich police is shown among the ruins, inspecting foot prints on some hat band ribbon.

Edward Fife, 1280 Kings Road, proprietor of the cleaning business which had been open only about one month, was unable to estimate the amount of damage done but he said today he would be able to carry on his business. Several suspects have been named and an arrest may be made shortly.

The breaking of the premises was discovered yesterday morning when Mr. Fife went to make some alterations to the office and front part of the plant. Constables Pearson and Cecil Pearce were at the scene shortly after and found entry had been gained through a back window, frame and glass of which had been smashed.

CEMENT, SAWDUST USED

Dry cement and sawdust had been poured into a large drum of cleaning fluid. A cleaning machine had been damaged with dry salt. Connections on a boiler had been hack-sawed away and cement poured into a sawdust burner.

Soap chips and methylated spirits had been thrown over the floors. About $15 worth of new ribbon for hat bands had been strewn about and dozens of coat hangers twisted and bent. Work benches had been pulled away from the walls and turned upside down.

RECORDS DESTROYED

The office of the plant was completely destroyed. Valuable records, mending and tagging equipment had been piled on the floor and grey paint poured over them.

A number of suits and dresses on hangers to be delivered this morning were not touched. Neither was the pressing machine of the plant which was near the front window of the building.

A good suit of Mr. Fife's was torn to shreds and a hat crushed and smeared with grease. These were the only articles of clothing which were destroyed.

Police found a man's running shoe footprints on the floors in the cement which the bandit had used to carry on his destructive work. Finger prints were found on some of the equipment.

The saboteur also left samples of his printing on the walls of the office and front section of the plant.

MESSAGE ON WALL

In bold letters were written the words: "Will be back again—the Blue Wasp, the Yellow Jacket"

Mr. Fife had only been in business about a month. He had purchased the pressing machine, which was not touched, about two weeks previous to the occurrence.

B.C. Mines Output $75,352,732

Although withholding details on production of strategic war minerals, the provincial department of mines today placed at $75,352,732 the total value of mineral production in the province during 1940. This was an all-time high record, exceeding by $9,761,183 the output for 1939 and by $877,000 the previous record established in 1937.

Gold production reached a new record of $23,350,019. The combined output of silver, copper, lead and zinc was $39,498,623, an increase of $7,198,000, and of antimony, bismuth, cadmium, mercury platinum and tungsten $1,714,770, an increase of $25,000.

Coal production was $7,088,265, a gain of $808,000 for the year, structural materials $2,534,840 and various non-metallics $1,166,213.

The 1940 production raised to $1,759,340,468 the all-time output of British Columbia mines. The department reports $139,694,753 in capital employed in the industry, $23,391,330 paid out in salaries and wages during the year to 15,705 workers, $3,474,721 spent on fuel and electricity and $6,962,162 on processing supplies. Twenty-three producing companies paid out $14,595,530 in dividends.

ELKS CONVENTION OPENS TODAY

One hundred British Columbia Elks opened a two-day convention here this morning. Mayor McGavin and Alderman J. A. Worthington and J. Johnson, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, welcomed them to the city.

In the main auditorium the mayor extended a welcome to the visitors on behalf of the city and hoped their stay would be a pleasant one.

Mr. Johnson welcomed the delegates on behalf of the businessmen of the city. He stressed an all-out war effort in Canada's aid to Britain and hoped that after the two great evils that caused the present chaotic condition of the world, intolerance and greed, had been overcome, the principles of Elksdom, benevolence and protection, would take their place in bringing about a universal brotherhood of man.

A closed business session followed. At 2 delegates and their

Health Man Dies

Dr. Jackson, 83, Once Lived Here

Dr. Robert G. Jackson, 83, former Victoria tailor, who became one of the most widely-known health specialists in North America, died yesterday at his home near Toronto.

The Bernarr MacFadden of Canada traveled the length and breadth of Canada in recent years, preaching the philosophy of natural health and the great benefits to be derived from his prepared breakfast foods.

He boasted he never wore an overcoat or long underwear, despite the severe eastern winters, and always slept with his windows wide open, even with the temperature 40 below. He walked miles every day and did physical exercises and ate copious amounts of his own foods.

In the last four years he had suffered three serious accidents and spent long periods in hospital, but between these he traveled across the country. He was in Victoria last year.

WAS TAILOR HERE

Dr. Jackson was born in Spencerville, Ontario, and learned the tailoring trade there. He came to Victoria about 55 years ago and his tailor shop in the Five Sisters Block, on Government Street, was the mecca for fashionable men from all parts of the Pacific northwest.

During his years in Victoria he lived in a bachelor establishment on Quebec Street, others in the same house being William M. Allan, retired manager of the American Mail Line and Pacific Steamship Company; Herbert Carmichael, David Miller, formerly of Angus Campbell and Company, and the late Frank Bennett, well-known lawyer.

Before the turn of the century he left for Philadelphia and took up medicine, obtaining his degree and practicing there for some years. Later he established a practice at Tacoma and went to Toronto in 1914, shortly afterwards starting the manufacture of breakfast foods that were to bring him fame and fortune.

Letters to the Editor

EVOLUTION VS. CHRISTIAN

Mr. Holdcroft as much as states one cannot accept the Bible and believe some form of evolution as the method of creation. This is a mistake. For it will be readily observed the first chapter of Genesis to the last chapter of Revelation is but a series of successive, progressive, evolutionary steps. The order of this evolution from the beginnings to the present the science of geology, evolution and history all corroborate. Smith's abridged Bible dictionary page 127, states: "The creation of all things in the Bible is ascribed to God, and is the only reasonable account of the origin of the world. The method of creation is not stated in Genesis, and as far as the account there is concerned, each part of it may be, after the first acts of creation by evolution."

True, as Mr. Holdcroft points out, the Bible states everything shall bring forth after its kind. This proves to be a hard and fast law. But of God being the Creator, therefore whenever it was in order for a higher species to come on the scene, He saw to it that a pair "Divinely selected" for that purpose, for once did not bring forth after its kind but rather instead the desired new species.

This is substantiated by Scripture, for example: Manoh and his wife were "Divinely selected" from whom was to be born a very unusual man — Samson. Samson could not be called a new species, but he certainly is recorded as being a remarkable variation from the usual. Abraham and Sarah were also "Divinely selected" to be the progenitors of a new race, Israel; Zacharias and Elizabeth as well were selected as the parents of John the Baptist, the prophet of whom it was said: "Among them that are born of women there hath not arisen a greater than John the Baptist" (Mat. 11:11); Joseph and Mary, the parents of Jesus, were also "Divinely selected" with very apparent results.

Moreover, here is one passage out of a number which definitely states what is to be the next great step of evolution, namely, "as we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly." (I Cor. 15:49).

Is not that evolution? — one species evolving (changing) into another?

CHAS. CATTERALL, 691 Francis Avenue.

PROPHECY

Capt. Elmore Philpott wrote on June 27, "When this war started there were seven so-called great powers in the world. The question of keeping the peace was really a question of keeping it as between these seven. Unless one or more of them were involved no war could really threaten much of the world."

"Today there are but five great powers left in the world. Vichy France and Italy are no more than servants of Germany. Next month—if Hitler makes good his grandiose boasts—Russia may become the tamed giant which will also march at Berlin's order. The remaining obstacles to complete world domination by the Nazis would be Britain, the island citadel and North America, which is more vulnerable to organized internal disturbance than any other part of the remaining free world."

Revelations 17:10—"And there are seven kings—five are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come—and when he cometh he must continue a short space. 11—And the beast that was, and is not, even he is the eighth, and is of the seven, and goeth into perdition. 12—And the 10 horns which thou sawest are 10 kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but receive power as kings one hour with the beast."

Are the following some of the particular five fallen kings?—King Alfonso of Spain, King of the Belgians, King of Bulgaria, King of Rumania, King of Albania (not to mention the Kaiser, King of Germany, and the Czar King of Russia), and these have fallen at a time when we see kings which have received no kingdom as yet (dictators) on the earth. 13—"These (the kings which have received no kingdoms as yet) have one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast. 14—These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them: for He is Lord of lords, and King of kings: and they that are with Him are called and chosen, and faithful."

MISS E. FRANCE, Sidney, B.C.

THOUGHTS OF DOMESTICITY

Cabinet Minister Herbert Morrison says that, after the war, all married women may receive wages (account of being tired of gossiping and working for their health only). This might be a good thing as the poor meek husbands may then be able to buy all the tobacco they need.

How about work and wages for the mothers-in-law and the "singles," many of whom are also human beings, believe it or not. At present the raging fight over more lipstick and less tobacco comes up regularly like the morning sun.

However, there is a brighter side over there. British socks last forever and grandpa's socks are often fixed with a safety pin round little Willie's swollen jaw to make his toothache nice and comfortable and decrease the yell.

In Canada everything is more modern, made to wear out quickly to make room for new patterns. Now when Mrs. Lipstick consents to darn some more socks beautifully with plenty of good hard knots and the poor husband complains, she says she does not care a darn anyway and then talks about his enormous tobacco consumption and points out how vile he is.

The kind mother-in-law says if those two good-for-nothings did not spend all the money on themselves they would be able to buy the baby a frock instead of depending on her for everything. Talk about "Life in the Finland Woods" how about life in our Canadian woods?

C. WALKDEN.

Are the following

Owner Predicted Time

Shangri-La Winner of Nanaimo Cruiser Race

NANAIMO (CP)—With perfection one would only expect in the paradise after which his boat is named, Dr. E. C. Guyer, Seattle, piloted his 40-foot Shangri-La into Nanaimo Harbor exactly on the 36,000th second he predicted it would take to reach here from the Winslow, Wash., starting point.

For this remarkable feat, "Cap'n" Guyer and Shangri-La won the "predicted log" international cruiser race from Winslow to Nanaimo.

"We predicted the run would take exactly '36,000 seconds,'" said Dr. Guyer, "and it took just that long to the second." His percentage of error of .4281 on the official books was caused by his missing five control points along the route by a few seconds.

Dr. Guyer was rewarded Saturday when he was presented with a life membership to Nanaimo Yacht Club by Commodore Andrew Johnstone of Nanaimo and Mayor V. B. Harrison.

Other prizes will be awarded at a banquet in Seattle in November when the Puget Sound Power Boat Association meets.

Dr. Guyer finished just 40 seconds ahead of E. E. Davis' Chilton, another Queen City vessel, but the latter finished far down the list in the class for 40-footers and over. That was because the ultimate percentage of error is figured on the accuracy with which skippers passed control points along the route, as well as their predicted arrival time.

Dorothy Jean II, captained by Albert E. Horn Jr. of the Seattle Yacht Club, took the class for 32 to 40-footers with a percentage of error of 4.2403 and the Laverock, skippered by E. Cunningham of the same club, took the 40-foot-and-over class with a percentage of error of 1.8866.

CANADIAN WINNER

Only Canadian winner was R. H. Dunsmore's Awgwan II of the Nanaimo Yacht Club, which has the best percentage of error among some dozen boats in the 32-foot-and-over class. Dunsmore's percentage was 1.4281 and the Spunky II, skippered by Charles Hillman of the Queen City Yacht Club, was a close second with a percentage of 1.9232.

LIST OF WINNERS

Overall winner—Shangri-La, E. C. Guyer, Queen City.
Class one: 32-feet and under, in order of finishing—Awgwan II, R. H. Dunsmore, Nanaimo; Spunky II, Chas. Hillman, Queen City; Patsie, Russell Rathbone, Seattle; Lovac, E. H. Binger, Tacoma; Marian, B. Mossman, Nanaimo.

Woman Overboard Elaine in Gulf

VANCOUVER (CP)—Canadian Pacific Steamship officials said here today an unidentified woman about 30 jumped from the deck of the Princess Elaine yesterday as the vessel was en route from Vancouver to Nanaimo. A 40-minute search failed to reveal any trace of the body.

Three soldiers who were on the deck of the coastal steamer said the woman had been sitting on a lifebelt box and that she suddenly sprang up, ran to the rail and jumped into the water as the vessel was about half-way to Nanaimo.

The soldiers gave the alarm to the bridge and Capt. William Hughes ordered a boat lowered. Searchlights from the Princess Elaine were played over the water but efforts to recover the body were unsuccessful.

The three witnesses were able to give only a meagre description of the woman. They said she wore glasses.

Steamship company officials said she had left no baggage on the vessel. British Columbia Police at Nanaimo are conducting further investigations in an effort to identify her.

Around the Docks

RUPERT FULL SHIP TO ALASKA TODAY

Summer tourist traffic to Alaska continues heavy and to-night's sailing of the Canadian National liner Ss. Prince Rupert marks the fifth cruise operated by the line so far this season with all accommodation booked.

Many of the passengers on board tonight's Alaska steamer are members of organized tours which originated in the eastern U.S. They are the Power and Berry tours, Chicago, and Rev. C. W. Casson's tour from Boston. Also aboard will be D. A. Shaw, vice-president of the Anglo-Canadian Leather Company, Montreal, and Judson C. Burns of Burns Electric Company, Philadelphia.

Excursion Tomorrow
Another big load of excursionists will arrive in Victoria Tuesday from Vancouver.

Several hundred are expected at midday aboard the C.P.R. steamer Princess Alice to spend the afternoon sightseeing and shopping before embarking at 6 on the trip home.

Cruise Postponed

Vice-commodore F. N. D. Robertson's cruise, scheduled over the weekend, was postponed until a later date in the year. There were no races over the weekend at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, but members cruised to Chatham Island for a picnic, returning to Cadboro Bay last night.

Yachts Arrive

Parties of visitors are daily arriving here by private yacht to augment the influx of American tourists. In the Inner Harbor today were the cabin cruisers Keewaydin and Trim-Two, both from Tacoma, Wash.

NEW LOAD LINES FOR OIL TANKERS

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP)—President Roosevelt today approved a bill to permit oil tankers to increase their cargoes.

The measure was designed to help meet the problem of a fuel shortage in the east arising from a lack of transportation facilities. Numerous oil tankers have been transferred to Britain.

The new act permits the Secretary of Commerce, during the present emergency, to establish new load lines on vessels in coastwise trade—lines which will not be above the safety point but which will give a "lesser free board" than present load line rules allow.

Moresby Re-elected

VANCOUVER (CP)—W. C. Moresby, K.C., Victoria, was re-elected treasurer of the British Columbia Law Society at its annual meeting here today.

The meeting decided to investigate the status of counsel at hearings conducted under The Dominion Conciliation Act, following a ruling by Judge J. N. Ellis recently when he ruled Walter S. Owen could not take part as counsel or legal adviser in arbitration proceedings involving the Pacific Bolt Manufacturing Co. Ltd.

Finnish Claims

HELSINKI (AP)—The Finnish high command declared in a communiqué tonight that Finnish troops broke through Russian positions at several points despite stubborn resistance.

Air Travel Here Up 28 Per Cent

Air passenger traffic from Victoria over Trans-Canada Airways increased 28 per cent over the corresponding months a year ago, states W. J. (Jack) Dalby, TCA western division traffic manager, who is in the city today on a periodical inspection trip from his headquarters at Winnipeg.

"We are well pleased with the business we are getting from Victoria," said Mr. Dalby. "It is better than some of the important prairie centres."

Passenger traffic throughout the company's western division during the past six months shows an increase of 28 per cent over the same period last year. Mr. Dalby pointed out. In regard to the passenger load factor, Mr. Dalby said the average number of passengers carried was higher than at any time in the company's history, even exceeding the air lines in the United States.

Mr. Dalby will be here until tomorrow afternoon, conferring with K. Crawford Burns, TCA district passenger agent.

Golds Climb

VANCOUVER (CP)—Prices finished higher but trading continued light on the forenoon session of the Vancouver Stock Exchange today. Transactions totaled 5,500 shares.

Bralorne Gold at 10.25 climbed 10 from Saturday's closing bid and Cariboo Gold Quartz advanced 5 to 2.20. Island Mountain at 90 was up 3 and Premier firmed a cent at 92.

In the oils Anglo-Canadian at 59 gained 5 from Saturday's bid and Royal Canadian finished fractionally higher at 6½. Other oils were inactive.

Grandview, lone base metal trader, slipped 1½ at 12.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE, with Major Hoople

OUT OUR WAY

By Williams

Uncle Ray

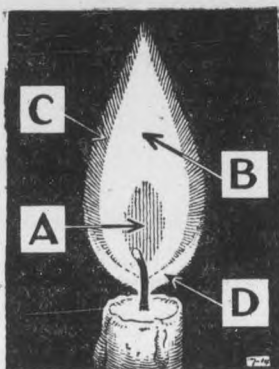

Oxygen Is Needed for Flames to Exist

In everyday life we may not think much about common things. Yet a common thing is certain to have something about it which is "a wonder" in one way or another.

Take a flame, for example. No matter how small it may be, it is amazing when we learn about it and think about it. Before our eyes there is a quick change of form.

Something "burns up," as we say, but that is only part of the story. Not only does the thing burn, but the air also burns, or at least a certain part of the air goes into the flame.

The part of the air which burns is the gas called "oxygen." This gas makes up more than one-fifth of the air. If there were none of it, a human being could not breathe. Oxygen must keep going into our lungs so a fresh supply will pass into our blood.

"A" points to the least hot part of the flame, "B" and "D" are hottest parts.

Without oxygen there would be no flame. If a water glass, upside down, is placed over a small candle, the flame will flicker and die. This happens when the glass rim is placed tightly on the floor or table. The oxygen inside the glass is burned out in a second or two.

When something burns up, it does not go into "nothing." Besides the ashes, everything else is left in a new form. The new form is but partly smoke and partly gas which cannot be seen. The inside part of a flame is not the hottest part of it. There is a place right inside, in the lower center, which is much less hot than the rest. That place, in the case of a candle, is just above the wick.

Tests with small pieces of wood have shown that they do not catch fire nearly so fast when held a little above the wick as when held elsewhere in the flame.

There is an old saying, "Fire is a good servant but a bad master." Matches should be handled with care, and so should anything else which has to do with fire. Many a person has lost his life after his clothing caught fire.

The cloth known as "rayon" may go up in smoke in a great hurry if it comes near a flame.

There are different kinds of rayon and they do not always burn at the same rate. Lately I tested three pieces. One piece burned as fast as a sheet of paper. The other two burned faster than paper.

HOROSCOPE

JULY 14

Benefic aspects rule today. As Luna is square Mercury new ideas or older plans may be formulated for swift development. Women should guard against an overbearing attitude and refrain from forcing issues. Businessmen will in many cases surmount difficulties and be extremely successful at this time. Stories which have no basis may arise and persons will do well to refrain from listening to gossip.

London astrologers declare new developments in the theatres of war will become more intense. Little respite for the warring nations is promised.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of few changes. Children born on this day may be cheerful and friendly.

Astronomy Course

The series of summer evenings with the stars, sponsored by the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, will commence July 21 at Victoria College.

This course, prepared especially for beginners, will run for five weeks with weekly lectures on popular aspects of the stars and outdoor observations.

Men in uniform will be admitted to the lectures. Due to daylight saving, the lectures will start at 8.45.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—My husband and I are now in our forties and we have a 19-year-old daughter. Up to about four years ago we were very happy together and our daughter was just like all other girls of moderately well-to-do people, happy and contented. But, suddenly, my husband made a great deal of money in his business and it has completely changed our daughter. She is in college, but she has gone wild. She drinks, goes to places she should not and runs with such a gay crowd that she has been asked to leave school. We have reason to believe that she is leading an immoral life, and both my husband and myself are frantic over it.

We have done everything we know to make our daughter happy. She has had two trips abroad, fine clothes, cars of her own, everything, but she shows us no respect and apparently has no affection for us. What can we do with such a daughter?

DISTRACTED PARENTS.

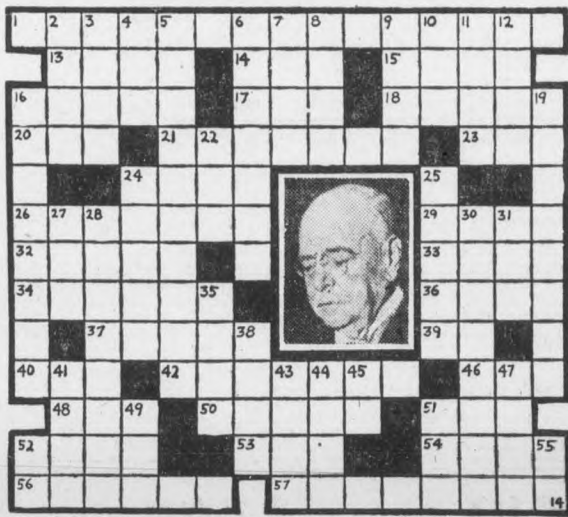

Answer—I wish I could tell you some way to bring your daughter back to her senses and make her see that the right way is the only sure way to happiness. But only the wisdom of God can solve that problem, and His mercy save the foolish little sinner from the consequences of her folly.

Your daughter is only another one of the thousands upon thousands ruined by having too much money to spend. Once a millionaire, in speaking to me of his daughter, said: "Like the children of all rich people, she is a heartbreak to her parents."

I thought it was the saddest speech that I had ever heard anyone make, because the tragedy of these pleasure-mad, excess-mad children of the rich, who believe that their money entitles them to break every law of God and man, is one that is almost impossible for the very wealthy to avoid. Then children are brought up in a poisonous atmosphere that weakens everything that is good and promotes everything that is bad in them. They have their egos inflated by the parasites who flunk before anybody who pays the check. They miss all the discipline that poverty gives. They have nothing to spur their ambitions to make something of themselves, because they are already sitting pretty on top of the world to their own callow belief.

DOROTHY DIX.

YOUR LIVER

and feel like a million!
Your liver is the largest organ in your body and most important to your health. It pours out bile to digest food, gets rid of waste, supplies new energy, allows proper nourishment to reach your blood. When your liver gets out of order food decomposes in your intestines. You become constipated, stomach and kidneys can't work properly. You feel "rotten"—headache, backache, dizzy, dragged out all the time. For over 35 years thousands have won prompt relief from these miseries—with Fruit-A-Lives. So can you now. Try Fruit-A-Lives—you'll be simply delighted how quickly you'll feel like a new person, happy and well again. 25c, 50c.

With the Forces

R.C.N. Changes
Entry Method

Changes in the method of entry into the permanent force of the Royal Canadian Navy have been announced by naval service headquarters.

Formerly applications were sent direct to the naval secretary at Ottawa. Now applications should be made to commanding officer of the nearest Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve division.

Divisions in the west are situated at Port Arthur, Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, Edmonton, Calgary, Vancouver and Esquimalt.

All accepted applications will first be enrolled as temporary R.C.N.V.R. ratings and given a probationary training at R.C.N.V.R. divisions for six weeks. Those found suitable will then be sent to the west coast for two months' special training.

If found satisfactory after the two months' training they will be transferred at once to the permanent force of the Royal Canadian Navy. Anyone found unsatisfactory for medical or other reasons will not be transferred and will be required to continue in the R.C.N.V.R. for the duration of hostilities or discharged from the service as circumstances warrant.

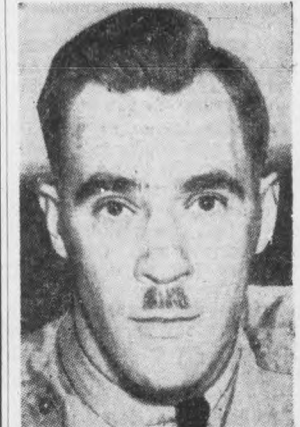

FOR DURATION
Physical and educational standards are different for the permanent force and for service for the duration of hostilities.

Any recruit who may not be physically or educationally up to standard for the permanent force but up to standard for service for the duration and suitable for entry will be offered the opportunity of entering the R.C.N.V.R. for the duration.

The naval service required approximately 1,500 recruits for active service every eight weeks, officials said. On August 7 this number will be taken on. In the meantime recruits can be attached to divisions for training three nights a week if living close to a divisional headquarters.

Recruits not living close enough to a division to attend drills can be attached on divisional strength. Recruits attached on divisional strength will be able to continue their employment until required for active service. Such recruits will be called up before recruits who are not attached to a division. Recruits under 17½ years of age will not be enrolled either for active service or divisional strength.

The chief recruiting officer reports there is still no shortage of men applying for entry into the navy, and the type of recruit is still of a high standard, naval service headquarters said.

GRID STAR IN R.C.A.F.—“Long Jawn” Sinclair, star kicking half and captain of Toronto Varsity's football team, today is Squadron Leader J. D. Sinclair. He is in charge of the medical and physical needs of hundreds of young men from all parts of the empire at the R.C.A.F.'s No. 1 Wireless School, Montreal.

Cigarettes Blamed
For Army Ulcers

MONTREAL — Here is good news for candy and chocolate bar manufacturers and bad news for cigarette manufacturers. The frequency with which stomach ulcers have developed in the Canadian Army has led the editor of the Canadian Medical Association Journal to suggest that friends and relatives of soldiers should send them malted milk tablets, candy and chocolate bars rather than “deluge” them with cigarettes.

“Peptic ulcer is undoubtedly the major cause of illness in the army,” he writes.

While it is debatable whether smoking increases stomach acidity and thus increases the tendency to develop ulcers or aggravate them, most doctors advise their ulcer patients not to smoke, he points out, adding that athletes

“Yes, I painted those chevrons on the dummy myself—I find it inspires the boys to greater effort.”

In training are denied tobacco on the ground that its use lessens stamina.

MARKSMAN RANGE CHIEF—

One of Canada's best marksmen, a member of two Bisley teams, Capt. John Stiver is now in charge of Camp Borden's ranges. Appointed G.S.O. III, Capt. Stiver is now head of the general staff branch at camp headquarters.

Retreat Schedule

Retreat will be played in Parliament Square at 8.30 each evening this week by bands of local units.

The schedule follows:
Today: 3rd Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment (R.F.) Band; route march after retreat.

Tuesday: 5th B.C. Coast Brigade (R.F.) Band; route march after retreat by 13th Field Ambulance, R.C.M.C.

Wednesday: R.C.A.F. Band; route march after retreat by R.C.A.F. detachment.

Thursday: Brass band of 1st Battalion, Irish Fusiliers. Route march by Fusiliers at 10.30 a.m.

Friday: Irish Fusiliers' Band.

Saturday: Irish Fusiliers' Band. The Esquimalt Garrison Band left Victoria today for duty in Vancouver. It will return to Victoria next Monday. The band is under command of Bandmaster G. E. Bowers.

OVERSEAS—Pilot Officer R. J. Lane, only son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Lane, 1468 Begbie Street, recently left for overseas after spending leave in Victoria. He received his commission before he left. P.O. Lane ranked first in the graduating class of No. 10 Service Flying School at Dauphin, Man. He attended Boys' Central School and Victoria High School and was employed by the Hudson's Bay Company before joining the R.C.A.F.

Directors Named
Of Fair Sections

Rounding out the arrangements for the livestock division of the eighteenth annual fall fair of the B.C. Agricultural Association to be held at the Willows, September 6 to 13 inclusive, T. K. Harrop and T. Pearce today were appointed directors of the swine and goat sections respectively.

All entries for the swine section must be in the fair office not later than August 9.

Prize money in the swine classes totals $1,169. Classes include Berkshires, Tamworths and Yorkshires. Prize money in the goat section totals $548. Breeds represented are Nubians, Saanen and Toggenburgs.

In connection with the goat section, special events have been arranged for boys and girls. There will be children's milking contests, goat-judging competitions and milk production records.

Prident Shows Well
At Privateer Mine

Privateer Mine at Zeballos produced 2,290.82 ounces of gold from 2,643 tons of ore during June, a total value of $80,178.70, D. S. Tait, president, announced. The average recovery was 867 of an ounce per ton.

Production was slightly lower than usual because more ore was drawn from lower grade areas due to the position of development in the mine.

During the last quarter, Mr. Tait reported, a cross-cut north from No. 2 vein on the 1,000 level has been completed, cutting three veins, known as Nos. 3, 4 and 5. Some drifting has been done on each of these. A shoot of good ore, about 40 feet, was developed on No. 3 and backs taken down in preparation for stoping. A somewhat similar ore body was developed on No. 4 but results are not so conclusive as on No. 3.

The main shaft was sunk another 125 feet to the 1,300 level and 580 feet of drifting done on No. 1 vein. Free gold was encountered but no commercial ore length. No. 2 vein was intersected at this level and 150 feet of drifting done. The ore ran 49 ounces across .65 of a foot, not regarded as commercial at Privateer. There is one stretch of 50 feet on the same length which might mill due to its free gold content. Drifting on these veins is continuing.

On the Prident operation development is gratifying, Mr. Tait said. On the 400 level some 600 feet of ore has been opened, comprised in seven ore shoots in five different veins, some of which is very high grade. The last shoot developed ran 2.05 ounces across .96 feet for a length of 121 feet. G. F. MacDonnell, consulting engineer, said it now looks as if this may be a major operation from which considerable tonnage may be drawn.

New house address numerals of plastic glow when even faint light is shed on them.

The herbarium in Kew Gardens, London, has at least 5,000,000 dried plant specimens, according to an estimate.

More vitamin A in the diet improved the eye of enamel-color matchers in a factory producing stoves and other supplies.

“My Husband and I agreed”

MY father died when I was ten. He had no insurance and our family had a hard struggle... it's a nightmare to look back upon.

Years ago my husband and I agreed that this must not happen to our children, so he began to build an insurance estate with the Confederation Life Association.

Since then my husband has bought three other Confederation Life Policies for larger amounts, and today I have no worry so far as our financial future is concerned.
